Announcement of Capitulation By Germany Expected Tonight

Battle of Europe Believed in Last Hours

Total Collapse of Germany Near

From CP, AP and BUP Dispatches

ADVANCED BATTLE HEADQUARTERS, AEF, April 30.—While tough fighting is still going on in Berlin, with the Red Army stormtroopers tightening the ring into which they have squeezed the fanatical Nazis left in the German capital, the feeling is growing at this headquarters that the Battle of Europe is in its last days, and perhaps its last hours.

LONDON, April 30.—(CP)—Reuters News Agency in a dispatch from United States 7th Army headquarters said tonight that Munich had been captured.

At only one other point on all the fronts are the enemy holding out with any show of force. This is in the area between Bremen and Hamburg where the Nazi 15th Panzer Grenadiers, one of Hitler's crack corps units, is fighting a stiff delaying action against the British 2nd Army.

But even here they are falling back, although slowly, and their re-

Debt Refunding Chief Subject on Caucus Agenda

Refunding of the Alberta debt will be the chief item of business to be considered at a caucus of Social Credit party MLA's to be held in the Legislative Buildings Thursday of this week, it was announced Monday by Premier Ernest Manning.

The complete agenda has not yet been completed, the premier said, but it is understood the problem of refunding will be the main consideration.

The meeting of the members will fall in line with their gathering here to attend the state dinner being tendered the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice. The caucus may last into Friday.

Negotiations for refunding Alberta's debt have been going on between the province and representatives of the bondholders in recent weeks.

Gen. Clark Reports:

German Forces Smashed in Italy

By HERBERT KING

ROME, April 30.—(BUP)—Allied victory in Italy was announced today by Gen. Mark Clark in a proclamation that 25 German divisions had been "torn to pieces" and no longer could resist effectively the British Eighth and U.S. Fifth Armies.

"The military power of Germany in Italy had practically ceased," Clark said. His statement put the official seal on clearcut evidence that Nazi resistance in North Italy was collapsing.

The Allied commander in Italy under Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander issued his victory announcement as the Eighth and Fifth Armies were stampeding through North Italy. The British captured Venice.

HOLLYWOOD, April 30.—Last week a circus came to Hollywood. You know how when a circus comes to town everybody turns out to see the freaks? In Hollywood, it was vice versa. I remember when I was a kid I used to carry water for the elephants and get into the circus free . . . of course. I didn't do that this time. I found it much easier just to crawl under the tent. Everybody was watching the clowns with their big red noses . . . then W. C. Field came in and stole the show. They had a very good program . . . I know . . . I was selling them. It was quite embarrassing to see the sea lions flapping their fins and barking for fish. Now I know what I must look like when optiontime comes around. They used to have the wild animals in cages to keep them from getting out and eating the people. But with the meat shortage, it's the other way around. It was interesting too, hearing the calliope. Now I know where Crosby got his basic training. All the elephants were putting on an act. Of course, the elephants never forget . . . they were still wearing their Dewey buttons.

Red Army Tanks in Tiergarten

Climax of Berlin Battle is at Hand

By ROBERT MUSEL
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, April 30.—(BUP)—Red Army tanks broke into the Tiergarten, fortified core of the last eight square mile pocket of resistance in Berlin, and both the Russians and Nazis said the climax of the historic battle was at hand today.

A Moscow dispatch forecast that Marshal Stalin will have his greatest symbolic victory of the war—the capture of Berlin—to present to the Russian people for their May Day celebration.

The Nazi-controlled Oslo radio admitted that Russian tanks broke into the Tiergarten, Berlin's central park where the Nazis were reputed to have built a massive fort around which the last battle in the capital appeared to be raging.

Due to Election

King May Not Accept Parley Chairmanship

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(BUP)—Canadian election demands, probably will prevent Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King's acceptance of the chairmanship of the important committee on the formation of a social and economic council, United Nations conference circles said today.

This committee is regarded as one of the most important and conference circles have been discussing Mr. King's special qualifications for the chairmanship.

It seems obvious, however, that the Canadian prime minister cannot accept any conference post requiring his presence here for the full length of United Nations deliberations.

SPEED PROCEEDINGS

While the imminence of V-E Day may speed proceedings and possibly lead to a six-months recess with only the major points of the charter settled, Mr. King is said to have decided that he should not

Russia Revives Polish Problem

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—(AP)—Russia has revived the Polish problem before the United Nations conference, it was learned yesterday, insisting anew that the Soviet-recognized provisional government in Warsaw be invited to send delegates and confronting the conference with another deadlock.

Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov has agreed to admit Argentina to the world security sessions, it was learned, but made his acceptance conditional on an invitation to Poland.

Britain and the United States are understood to oppose firmly admitting the Polish government as now constituted.

Reports Conflict On Whereabouts Of Axis Chiefs

By The Canadian Press

Compiled from a welter of conflicting reports, here are the latest stories extant on the whereabout of the leaders of dying Nazism and Fascism:

Adolf Hitler: The Germans said he was in Berlin, directing the defence of that invested capital. The report has been received with skepticism in Allied quarters. The heavy bombing of Berchtesgaden and his private chalet indicated an Allied belief that the Fuehrer might be in the Bavarian mountain redoubt area. The Free German Press in a report relayed from Stockholm said a fanatical Nazi double for Hitler would die in Berlin's defence to perpetuate the Nazi hero legend.

Fear Conference Might Break Up When Huns Quit

By LYLE C. WILSON
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30—(BUP)—United Nations' delegates began a speed-up program today under the pressure of fear that this conference will begin to disintegrate the moment German resistance ends.

Key conference figures are restless. The Europeans are especially uneasy as events impend back home. United Kingdom delegation is promoting hurry-up procedure.

A plan unofficially discussed would be for this conference to recess shortly after V-E Day. An interim commission in Washington could then be authorized to continue with international organization plans until full delegations could reassemble. A preferable alternative more definitely sponsored, however, is for some fixed time limit within which delegates would agree to complete their job here before dispersing.

MAY RETURN HOME

If the Germans should quit today the chances are good that the heads of the United Kingdom and Russian delegations shortly would be flying to their capitals. That would leave the conference short of prestige and authority. Foreign Com-

Crowds Revile Bodies of Mussolini And His Henchmen After Execution

By GEORGE BRIA

ROME, April 30.—(AP)—Benito Mussolini was executed Saturday in northern Italy and his body with that of 17 other executed Fascist leaders was on exhibition last night before a huge crowd in a Milan square, Allied headquarters announced, quoting two British correspondents who saw the bodies.

A headquarters announcement said that the two British war correspondents who returned from Milan said they personally saw the bodies of Mussolini and his henchmen lying in Piazza Loreto in Milan, where the populace passed by continuously "to view the corpses and revile them."

The story of the two correspondents and the Allied announcements was the first confirmation here of the story broadcast by the Milan radio throughout Sunday concerning the execution of the 61-year-old fallen dictator who ruled Italy for 21 years.

The two correspondents, Christopher Lumby of the Times and Stephen Barber of the London News Chronicle, said Mussolini and his associates were seized in Como while trying to escape into Switzerland.

Unlawful Eviction To Carry Penalty

Charges of trespassing will be laid against any landlords who evict service personnel or their families without court orders, officials of Edmonton Branch No. 24 of the Canadian Legion BESL, said Monday.

A Legion official made this statement on the eve of execution of eviction attempts that it was stated would place servicemen and their families literally out on the street.

The official said the Legion was investigating the case of the wife of a serviceman whose landlord is said to be attempting to take possession of the tenant's quarters without a court order.

One other similar case is also being investigated.

Because of the housing shortage a serious situation is apt to develop, it was stated, and it is pointed out that only where a court order is produced is a tenant obliged to move out.

Report Neutral Intermediary Is En Route To Stockholm

ZURICH, Switzerland, April 30.—(Reuters)—Reports reaching this city today from across the German border said announcement of the capitulation of Germany is expected tonight.

By PHIL AULT
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, April 30.—(BUP)—A neutral intermediary was reported en route back to Stockholm today with Heinrich Himmler's reply to Allied demands that Germany surrender to Russia as well as to the United States and Britain.

Most sources believe that if Himmler actually sent a reply, it will be a decision to surrender Germany unconditionally to all three countries.

They contended that he would not have made the surrender offer to the United States and Britain alone in the first place if he had not been convinced of the utter hopelessness of Germany's position.

The Evening News political correspondent said Prime Minister Churchill was understood to have returned to London from the country early today. The war cabinet will consider Himmler's reply as soon as it is received, the dispatch said.

Meets Himmler in Denmark

Stockholm dispatches said the intermediary, Count Folke Bernadotte, director of the Swedish Red Cross, met Himmler Sunday morning somewhere in Denmark. He was expected to leave Copenhagen for Stockholm sometime today, the dispatches said.

With Germany tottering on the brink of total collapse, rumors of developments within the shaken country and her still-occupied neighbors came thick and fast from continental sources.

All unconfirmed and many of them conflicting, they included:

1. Adolf Hitler is mad, dying or already dead.

2. German anti-Nazi partisans kidnapped foreign minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

3. German sailors mutinied at the Baltic port of Rostock and are engaged in fierce fighting with SS troops.

4. A representative of Dr. Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Himmler's deputy for Bavaria and Austria, is meeting with Swiss officials at Vaduz, capital of neutral Liechtenstein. The subject of the negotiations was not disclosed but may involve the surrender of further portions of Germany or Austria.

STOCKHOLM, April 30.—(Reuters)—Usually reliable sources said tonight that Gestapo Chief Henrich Himmler is believed to have given to Count Bernadotte, vice-president of the Swedish Red Cross, a capitulation offer addressed to Russia, Britain and the United States. A previous offer to surrender Germany, addressed only to Britain and the United States, was rejected because Russia was not included.

8th War Loan At $432,008,000 In First Week

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Canada's Eighth Victory Loan total climbed to $432,008,000 last night with the addition of purchases of $75,980,750 Saturday, sixth day of the three-week campaign for a minimum objective of $1,350,000,000.

The Saturday total compared with $69,470,950 reported for the same day of the seventh loan last autumn while the cumulative figure compared with $429,884,250 at the same stage of the last drive.

National headquarters here said all provinces had reported sales up from $500,000 to nearly $3,000,000 over the seventh loan on the basis of individual purchases.

The first week's tabulations showed firm improvement in the individual sales campaign, which has a quota of $675,000,000—half of the national objective. In the first

British Armor Nearer Rangoon

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

CALCUTTA, April 30.—(BUP)—Armored columns of the British 14th Army have driven within 36 miles of Rangoon, capital of Burma, in a drive south down a main highway, a communique said today.

In the Irrawaddy sector of central Burma, other United Kingdom troops have captured Minbu on the west bank of the river opposite Magwe.

It was not indicated whether Pegu, 50 miles northeast of Rangoon, had been captured or by-passed. Pegu is the largest town between Meiktila and Rangoon and focal point of Japanese escape routes toward Thailand.

If the enemy planned to defend Rangoon, it seems that they would have to pivot such a defence on Pegu.

The advance of Lt. Gen. Sir W. J. Slim's 14th Army has carried it some 280 miles from the central Burma plain since the offensive started in the first week in April.

City Stands at 41.7% Quota In Loan Drive

Sales in the Eighth Victory Loan on Saturday totalled $2,771, 800 to bring the total for the first week of the campaign to $19,532,400, or 41.7 per cent of the $47,300,000 over-all objective for the province.

Edmonton's sales on Saturday amounted to $410,900 from 1,668 subscribers, to bring the total for the week to $2,051,650, or 82.3 per cent of the $6,300,000 quota set for the city. The number of subscribers participating during the first week of the loan was 8,026.

In rural Northern Alberta the sales during the week amounted to $3,304,500, of which $514,600 resulted from Saturday's business. The number of subscribers on the sixth day was 1,750, bringing the total for the week to 8,951.

In the Seventh Victory Loan sales at the end of the first week amounted to $2,382,150, for 33.7 per cent of the quota. In the Eighth loan 40.2 per cent of quota had been reached at the end of the first week.

Few Demonstrations

Excitement Sweeps Canada As Foe Surrender Reported

By The Canadian Press

A wave of excitement swept Canada during the weekend with premature report of Germany's unconditional surrender but peace demonstrations were few and far between as the nation generally adopted a watch-and-wait attitude.

Except for Montreal—only city to react in anything like end-of-the-war fashion—any tendency towards celebration was squelched by President Truman's denial. But demonstrations continued in Montreal until a late-night drizzle of rain dampened the proceedings.

Thousands of Montrealers jammed the streets, shouting and singing, even after the denial. Street cars could hardly move on uptown St. Catherine street. Flags appeared like magic. Night clubs and restaurants closed. Only a few sections of the city remained quiet.

Radio Broadcasts Say Hitler Is Dead

NEW YORK, April 30.—The British Broadcasting Company, in a report recorded at the CBS shortwave listening station, said an unconfirmed report had reached Stockholm by way of Munich and Berne that "Hitler died at noon yesterday (Sunday) in his underground headquarters in the Tiergarten in Berlin with (Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph) Goebbels at his bedside."

Another BBC broadcast, quoting a Stockholm dispatch, reported that Hitler had suffered a hemorrhage of the brain and had been left an invalid, Blue network monitors said.

Climax of Great Battle For Berlin At Hand Today

"In some quarters where the Germans have particularly strong pillboxes and bunker positions," Oslo said, "Soviet tanks had to withdraw and wait for their planes and artillery to crush German resistance. This was particularly the case in the Tiergarten."

The Hamburg radio said the battle for Berlin, "the battle for the destiny of the entire continent, now has reached its climax."

Soviet dispatches delayed far behind the course of the battle said that already the west and south districts of Berlin were cleared, and that the fighting had moved beyond the Anhalter station to the Tiergarten and Reichstag areas.

The decimated SS garrison was in its "last throes of resistance," Moscow said. Most of its artillery was gone and its hold on the centre of the doomed capital was shrinking hourly.

William (Lord Haw Haw) Joyce, broadcasting over the North German radio, said Adolf Hitler still was directing the defence of Berlin from an underground citadel. But other continental reports said Hitler either was dying or already dead.

EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDES

Front dispatches published in Moscow said an epidemic of suicides swept German army and Nazi party ranks as the Red Army fought deeper into the capital. Scores were found dead by their own hand.

Tens of thousands of other German troops deserted to the Russian lines. The captured commander of a German police battalion estimated that at least 40,000 deserters had thrown away their uniforms and were hiding in Berlin cellars.

A total of 177 blocks in the ruined inner city fell to Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's first White Russian and Marshal Ivan S. Onev's First Ukrainian armies yesterday as the battle of Berlin entered its final phase.

The toll of enemy troops killed or captured in the battle for Berlin rose to 156,000, including 38,000 prisoners taken inside the capital in the last 48 hours. More than 8,000 Germans were killed by Zhukov's forces alone yesterday.

MOABIT CAPTURED

In the north, the First White Russian Army captured the Moabit district with its turreted jail and reached the Spree river within point blank range of Hitler's Reichschancellery and the burned-out Reichstag.

Some 12,000 war prisoners of assorted nationalities were liberated at Moabit. Fourteen factories were captured.

A front dispatch to the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said fire and smoke were everywhere inside Berlin. The earth shook as in an earthquake under the artillery barrage, the dispatch said.

"The walls of houses are pocked with bullet and shell holes," the dispatch said. "Our feet sink in broken glass. Our throats smart from the fumes of the burning leather and textile depots. At night, there is not a single cloud in the sky, but neither the stars nor the moon are visible because of the all-consuming flames."

Southeast of Berlin, the Russians captured 40,000 encircled Germans to wipe out one of the last big enemy pockets outside the capital.

Fight For Airfields On Okinawa Island

GUAM, April 30—(AP)—American troops, enraged over a Japanese pilot's suicidal attack on a hospital ship evacuating wounded, fought doggedly today for two airfields—their immediate objective on southern Okinawa.

The fully-loaded, unarmed, unescorted U.S.S. Comfort was attacked and heavily damaged 50 miles south of Okinawa. Twenty were killed, 33 wounded and one was missing.

Athough the 13,000-ton vessel was readily identifiable as searchlights played on the giant red crosses painted on her gleaming white decks and superstructure, the Japanese pilot made several runs at her preliminary to suicide attack, reported Vern Haugland, Associated Press war correspondent.

The U. S. 27th Infantry Division captured the northern half of Machinato airfield, 2½ miles north of Haha, Okinawa's capital on the west coast. The 7th Infantry Division gained heights overlooking Yonabaru airdrome on the east coast.

treat will be hastened when the Canadians, advancing on the British left, reach Emden, German U-boat base on the North Sea. This will turn the flank of the defenders of Hamburg, and will necessitate a falling back to the sea and into Denmark.

Elsewhere the reports are of Nazi troops surrendering or falling back mile after mile offering no opposition to the steady Allied advance.

It is estimated that the Allied armies on both eastern and western fronts have now occupied roughly 174,818 square miles of Germany proper, leaving only 9,648 square miles still in German hands.

74,986 PRISONERS

On the Western front alone 74,986 prisoners were taken on Saturday, bringing the April total at the end of that day to 1,294,738 and the total since D-Day on June 6 last to 2,621,433.

Since these figures were released gains have been made in both the number of prisoners taken and the territory captured.

Talk on all fronts is of the surrender offer of Heinrich Himmler, and the feeling is growing in all Allied armies that the total collapse of the German Reich is at hand.

It was made at a time when three new link-ups by American and Red Army forces were reported, with another junction between the Russians and British 2nd Army in the north only a matter of a few miles, and still another American-Russian link-up in the south imminent within the next few hours.

Himmler's latest offer is reported to be:

1. The surrender of Hitler, dead or alive, and himself and other high ranking Nazis to the Western Allies.
2. German troops on the Western front to lay down their arms and await instructions from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.
3. Troops on the eastern front to be placed under "stand still" order.
4. Nazi forces in Denmark and Norway to retire five miles from the coast and to surrender to patriot authorities.

The surrender terms are said to be subject of notes now being exchanged between Marshal Stalin and the British and American governments, who are acting in the closest co-operation. Whether they will be accepted is not yet known at headquarters here, but in some parts of the front at least the Allied troops have been "alerted" for a possible "Cease Fire" order.

In any event it is conceded on all sides that the defeat of the Nazis is now an accomplished fact, and that whether the surrender terms are accepted or not, the German army as a fighting force is no longer a threat to the peace of Europe, and that Nazi resistance at most points on all the fronts is almost non-existent.

COMPRESS DEFENDERS

In Berlin fanatical defenders of the Nazi capital are being compressed into an area now less than 8 miles square which is being steadily pounded to pieces from the air and from heavy Russian artillery now firing from position well within the city itself.

NAZIS SURRENDERING

Even in Berlin the will to resist is slackening, and during the past 24 hours over 4,000 Nazis are reported to have surrendered there, stumbling out of the blazing ruins and shambling through the piles of rubbles with their hands in the air. The German defenders are reported to be battle dazed and weary, and seeking only a respite from the heavy hammering blows of the Red Army.

At Munich U.S. 7th Army troops cut down the first fringe of die-hard Nazis and then found resistance in the revolt-torn shrine of Nazism almost negligible.

The notorious Dachau concentration camp seven miles north of Munich, the first and blackest of the political death camps established in the early days of the Hitler regime, was over-run by the 7th Army on Sunday.

It was at Dachau that the elite SS Guards put up the only fighting in the area. Over 300 were killed or captured before resistance crumbled, and the 32,000 political and religious prisoners still held there, greeted their deliverers with hysterical joy.

DRIVE INTO REDOUBT

Pushing on through Munich the U.S. 7th Army spearheads drove deep into the Alpine redoubt and are now within 25 miles of the Brenner Pass, last escape hatch for the beaten German armies in Italy who are retreating before the blows of the British 8th and American 5th Armies.

Far to the north, British 2nd Army forces drove ten miles or more north of their Elbe bridgehead and are now within 25 miles of Lubeck, seaport on the Baltic sea.

The almost dead Luftwaffe made a desperate attempt to halt this advance and strafed the bridgehead for some time, but were driven off by British and American fliers who shot down 10 German planes in the fighting.

Emden, Wilhelmshaven and Bremerhaven were also menaced as Field Marshal Montgomery's forces smashed ahead there in a rapidly developing drive towards the big seaports.

TAKE PRISON CAMP

In their push north the British liberated the Sandbostel prison camp, together with 22,000 war and political prisoners, and advanced past Bremevoerde on the line between Hamburg and Bremen.

Further West Canadian troops turned the strong Oldenburg defence line by crossing the Ems and Leda rivers, two of the last barriers before Emden, Wilhelmshaven and Bremerhaven.

The Canadians are now pointing for Aurich, 13 miles northeast of Emden, and capture of this town will split German forces defending the Friesland peninsula and make it possible to destroy them sectionally.

The Canadian bridgehead is well held and steadily expanding, and so far there have been no large-scale counter-attacks.

On the U.S. 9th Army front the American troops established another contact with advancing Red Army units west of Berlin, widening the corridor between the shrinking German northern and southern redoubts to perhaps 80 miles, and making it impossible for Nazi troops in either pocket to come to the aid of the other.

Northeast of Munich, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U.S. 3rd Army crossed the Isar river at three points on a 60-mile wide front and advanced southward through the rolling Alpine foothills barely 25 miles from the Inn river valley and Hitler's birthplace of Braunau.

Unconfirmed reports say that contact has already been made with the Red Army in the Danube valley about 75 miles northeast of Berchtesgaden.

This advance, co-ordinated with the U.S. 7th Army drive on the Brenner Pass and the advance north of the Allied troops in Italy near the north shore of Lake Garda, has been a devastating blow for the Nazis.

South of that wedge, the bulk of Germany's surviving armies were primed for the kill after a tremendous Allied victory in Northern Italy that Gen. Mark Clark announced had "torn to pieces" 25 Nazi divisions and ended all effective German resistance there.

The victory laid the southern flank of the Bavarian Redoubt open to invasion by the British Eighth and U.S. Fifth armies, both of which were driving up within 80-odd miles of the Brenner Pass.

Simultaneously, the American Seventh Army drove through the Alpine passes from the north to take the Olympic resort town of Partenkirchen, only 20 miles northwest of Innsbruck, northern exit of the Brenner Pass.

German resistance was almost nil at most points as the Allied advances pierced Nazidom's last redoubt, and together the U.S. 3rd and 7th Armies took almost 125,000 prisoners on Saturday and Sunday, eliminating at a blow the bulk of the divisions massed in Bavaria for the dying third Reich's last fight.

FRENCH PLUNGE AHEAD

In southwestern Germany French troops plunged 20 miles or more southward toward the Austrian and Bavarian Alps and are now reported through Leutkirch, 74 miles northwest of Innsbruck, northern gateway to the Brenner Pass.

In their drive they took some 4,000 prisoners, including two generals.

Absence of the Luftwaffe is still outstanding. On Sunday 11,000 Allied planes were in the air, pounding at remaining German strongpoints on every front. They destroyed 58 German planes at a cost of six Allied planes.

The day's biggest air strike was made by a force of fighter-bombers that pounced on a column of about 1,000 Nazi motor transports and horse-drawn vehicles near the Czechoslovak arms centre of Pilsen.

In a merciless bombing and strafing attack that lasted from noon to dusk on Sunday the Allied planes littered the roads with the flaming wreckage of more than 900 enemy vehicles, virtually wiping out the column which was apparently trying to escape southward into the Bavarian redoubt.

New German Surrender Offer Said 'On Its Way'

in Denmark are ready to capitulate and withdraw their troops.

6. The Quisling government in Norway resigned.

London newspapers predicted the end of the European war was only a matter of days away. The London Daily Mail said it may end at any hour.

Count Bernadotte presumably gave Himmler, Gestapo chief, interior minister and possibly acting Fuehrer of Germany, the Anglo-American refusal to make a separate peace with Germany at their purported meeting in Denmark Sunday.

A Stockholm dispatch to the London Daily Express said Himmler's original offer, made last Tuesday, called for the surrender of Hitler—dead or alive—along with himself and other high Nazis to the western Allies.

TO LAY DOWN ARMS

Under other provisions of the offer, the Express said, German troops on the western front would lay down their arms, those on the eastern front would "come to a standstill" and others in Norway and Denmark would retire five miles from the coast and surrender to patriot authorities.

All London newspapers emphasized that capitulation should not earn immunity for Himmler, possibly the most wanted of all Nazi war criminals next to Hitler. They all theorized that he probably was hoping for amnesty in making the surrender offer.

Suggestions that Hitler already may be dead were seen in two developments. One was the report that Himmler had offered to surrender him "dead or alive" and the other, that the German radio ceased its repetitious claims that the Fuehrer was directing the defence of Berlin.

ANOTHER RUMOR

However, still another rumor, this one published in the Stockholm newspaper Morgontidningen, said both Hitler and Reichs-Marshal Hermann Goering were suffering from megalomania.

Hitler was said to be busy addressing imaginary audiences in an empty room and planning to rebuild London. Goering was dressing up as a Roman Emperor and painting his finger nails and toenails red, the dispatch said.

Stockholm sources suggested that the reports of Hitler's and Goering's illnesses may have been circulated by Himmler himself with the object of giving the world the impression that he was the only sane Nazi leader with whom peace negotiations could be carried out.

LONDON, April 30.—(AP)—A new surrender offer from Heinrich Himmler, presumably to all three major powers, was understood to be "on its way" today.

Cabinet ministers were ordered to stand by as swiftly-moving developments pointed to Germany's collapse.

This capital was outwardly calm, even though a V-E Day announcement was expected at any hour. There was more ministerial activity in Whitehall than there had been in some time.

There were indications that only details of Germany's surrender remained to be worked out. These may concern whether Himmler or any other ranking Nazi leader could give solid evidence that German pockets on the Atlantic coast and in Norway would lay down their arms.

It was possible that uncertainty over the temper of commanders such as Col.-Gen. George Lindemann in Denmark was holding up an agreement on details.

ALL DOUBT REMOVED

The Press Association said "There is no longer any doubt that armistice moves are in progress and moving swiftly."

Speculation centred around the possibility that May Day might be chosen for a victory announcement.

It was felt here, however, that before this comes Premier Stalin may announce the capture of Berlin—that the Russians are determined to claim this prize before the Nazis will be allowed to give up.

This may take a few days, since Moscow is always cautious in announcing the capture of any major place.

Many people say significance in the two reports that Prime Minister Churchill may make a statement in the House of Commons tomorrow and the Russian announcement that the Moscow blackout will be lifted tonight.

London newspapers carried headlines saying: "Hitler Dying: War May End Today."

By The Associated Press

Reports that Heinrich Himmler, apparently trying to save Germany from Russian hands, had offered to surrender unconditionally to the United States and Britain, raised false hopes of peace which swept the world during the week-end.

The Himmler reports, published in both Britain and the United States, said the Gestapo chief had assumed command in Germany because Hitler was dying and had made his bid through a Stockholm private citizen. Prime Minister Churchill took cognizance of the report by issuing a special statement declaring that no surrender offer would be considered unless made jointly to Britain, the United States and Russia.

GIVES STATEMENT

Following publication of these developments in the United States, Senator Tom Connally (Dem., Texas), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and vice-chairman of the American world security conference delegation in San Francisco, authorized a statement Saturday night that Germany had surrendered and that he expected a formal announcement "momentarily."

Hopes stirred by the Connally statement were blasted a short time later when President Truman in Washington—after checking with Gen. Eisenhower at Allied supreme headquarters in Paris—declared reports of a German surrender unfounded.

The full sequence of events leading up to the peace report and its denial was as follows:

Saturday morning the New York Times carried a dispatch from a Washington correspondent, Sidney Shallett, asserting reports were current in Washington "that Nazi Germany had made known a willingness to surrender unconditionally to the United States and Britain but not to the Soviet Union and that the western allies have told the enemy negotiators that they will accept 'only for all'."

HITLER NEAR DEATH

The Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet reported Saturday morning that Hitler was near death as result of a cerebral hemorrhage and that his death would mean capitulation.

British papers published unofficial reports of a German surrender offer to Britain and the U.S. and said the British government had declared such proposals would be rejected.

Reuters news agency reported from San Francisco that Himmler had made an unconditional surrender offer to Britain and the U.S.

Prime Minister Churchill issued a formal statement declaring that the surrender offer reports were "in harmony with the enemy's desperate situation" but the British government had no information to give out on the subject "at this moment". Mr. Churchill said that only a surrender to all three major allied powers would be acceptable.

The Allied-controlled Luxembourg radio broadcast the reported Himmler offer and Anglo-American reply.

In Washington the White House at 10:30 a.m. refused to confirm or deny the reports but reiterated that only surrender to the three major powers would be entertained.

RELIABLE INFORMATION

The London Sunday Times was quoted as saying its political correspondent had reliable information that "Germany may cease fighting during the next 24 hours."

From San Francisco the Associated Press reported at 5:47 p.m. (EDT) that it was understood exchanges looking toward a surrender were under way. At 7:09 p.m., the Associated Press reported from San Francisco an Allied ultimatum had been delivered the Germans and at 7:33 p.m., that the same high source at the security conference said acceptance of the ultimatum was expected hourly.

Then, at 7:55 p.m., Sen. Connally—at that time declining to permit use of his name—was quoted as saying Germany had surrendered and that an official announcement was expected "momentarily," presumably through Eisenhower.

GREAT EXCITEMENT

That was the news that touched off the skyrocket of excitement. It also precipitated a vain hunt for confirmation in the Allied capitals and at headquarters in Paris. Many localities went into V-E Day exuberance, although in the main the celebrations were relatively subdued.

President Truman went to the White House at 8:34 p.m.

From San Francisco, at 8:41 p.m., came word that a second high American official—also declining to permit use of his name—said he had the same information as that given out by Sen. Connally.

Paris reported at 9:11 p.m. that headquarters was without knowledge of a surrender and that Eisenhower himself was asleep. London said all was quiet at 10 Downing Street.

President Truman ended the brief "peace" flurry with a flat declaration at 9:36 p.m. that the report was "unfounded."

REPORT CHECKED

The President said he had checked the report with Gen. Eisenhower in Paris and from the general's headquarters direct came Eisenhower's statement at 10 p.m. that he had received no information of a German surrender.

Six minutes later, informed of the Truman statement, Sen. Connally permitted disclosure that he was the source of the surrender report at San Francisco. He reiterated he expected the announcement "momentarily" and added that his information came from an authoritative source.

In a Moscow broadcast relayed through London, at 11:09 p.m., the official Russian news agency, Tass, confirmed that Himmler had made a surrender offer to the United States and Britain and that the two western Allies had turned it down because Russia was not included.

Stockholm reported at 11:13 p.m. that the Swedish foreign office disclosed that Himmler's offer was made through a Stockholm private citizen and the newspaper, Dagens Nyheter, identified this person as Count Folke Berndotte, vice-chairman of the Swedish Red Cross, who had made many "mercy trips" to Germany.

BACK TO GERMANY

Bernadotte was reported to have gone back to Germany Saturday and Sunday night the Dagens Nyheter said he had landed in Denmark on his return to Stockholm after seeing Hitler again. It was suggested that he had carried some sort of an Allied message to the Gestapo chief.

The London Daily Mail, quoting "a high official in Whitehall," said Monday that Hitler was dying or already dead and that when Berlin fell the war in Europe could be regarded as practically ended. The newspaper said Messrs. Churchill and Truman talked "more than once" by Trans-Atlantic telephone Sunday.

"It can only be a matter of days now—it may be only of hours—before all is over," wrote the Mail's diplomatic correspondent, Wilson Broadbent, quoting the unidentified official.

accept any commitments that would keep him here beyond May 24.

CCF Leader M. J. Coldwell told correspondents his hope is to get away by May 21.

One fact which contributes to the restlessness of the Canadian delegation is the news that Progressive Conservative leader John Bracken plans to start his campaign on May 7 at Brampton, where he will speak at the meeting to nominate Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative representative on the UNCIO delegation here, as the party's candidate in the riding of Peel.

South African, Dutch, Belgian and Venezuelan delegates were reported leading contenders today for chairmanships of four other major commissions of the conference.

MAY BE ANNOUNCED

The assignments may be announced after today's meeting of the conference steering committee. They were expected to be as follows:

Commission 1 (general provisions)—Prime Minister Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa.

Commission 2 (general assembly)—Pasl Henri Spaak, Belgian minister of foreign affairs.

Commission 3 (security council)—Eelco N. Van Kleffens, Netherlands minister of foreign affairs.

Commission 4 (judicial organization)—Carraciolo Parra Perez, Venezulan minister of foreign affairs.

8th War Loan At $432,008,000 In First Week

six days individual purchases touched $221,100,650, more than $23,000,000 over the total of $197,667,600 for six days of canvassing individual citizens in the last loan. Every province contributed to the gain.

British Columbia-Yukon, apart from special names sales, has $27,744,750, an increase of $1,724,450.

The biggest gain, however, was registered by Alberta, where the current total for general canvass and payroll is $17,140,500, compared with $14,339,050 in the last loan—an increase of $2,949,850.

Saskatchewan's total is $13,224,000, an increase of $938,700, while Manitoba moved ahead by $428,500, with a six-day figure of $10,915,350.

SUBSTANTIAL GAINS

Always keen rivals, Ontario and Quebec both showed substantial gains for individual purchases. Ontario's total of $91,793,850 is an improvement of $1,723,900 over last loan, while Quebec jumped ahead by $2,490,300—from $35,774,700 to $38,265,000.

Western Air Command reached 100 per cent., with $1,150,750, with No. 1 nearly two per cent. of quota higher, with $2,785,150. Northwestern now is at 106.7 per cent. at $154,700. Overseas remains as last reported—119 per cent., with $5,038,700.

Canadian Pacific Railway employees throughout the Dominion have subscribed $5,316,150 so far.

Largest single purchases reported during the week-end was that of the Sun Life Assurance Co., of Canada, for $20,000,000.

Ask All Workers At Jobs V-E Day

OTTAWA, April 30—(CP)—Munitions Minister Howe appealed last night to Canadian workers to stay on the job on V-E Day and to continue all-out production for the defeat of Japan.

Mr. Howe said a holiday probably would be declared some time after the official announcement of the cessation of hostilities in Europe, and added:

"Even on such a holiday it will be necessary for many thousands of workers to stay at their posts. In short, the observance of the defeat of the fascist forces in Europe must be tempered by the grim knowledge that the war will not be over, that another desperate enemy will remain to be beaten."

Mr. Howe's announcement was accompanied by an official statement of policy for crown companies and contractors which stressd that there should be no cessation of work in their plants when the end-of-the-war proclamation is issued.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Great Britain almost inevitably must hurry back to London immediately after V-E day. Most of the United Kingdom delegation, in fact, would be wanted at home where Prime Minister Churchill plans a quick general election.

Similar pressing factors confront the Canadian delegation, especially Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other parliamentary members. It was learned that the general election campaign in Canada will not permit Mr. King to remain longer than May 24.

Free Prisoners

WITH THE U.S. 3RD ARMY, April 30—(AP)—The United States 14th Armored Division yesterday liberated 27,000 Allied prisoners at a prison camp near Moosburg, 27 miles northeast of Munich. The liberation followed a nine-mile dash by the 14th Armored to the vicinity of Moosburg. The Germans had marched the prisoners there in recent days from various parts of Germany.

Bloc Populaire May Not Join National Front

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Federal political observers expressed belief yesterday that Maxime Raymond and Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal, co-leaders of the Bloc Populaire party, would not join forces with Hon. P. J. A. Cardin in his new "National Front party."

These observers pointed to a statement made Friday night by Mr. Raymond when he announced that Mr. Houde had agreed to be co-leader of the Bloc Populaire, which was formed in 1942 of Liberals who broke from the government over the conscription issue.

Mr. Raymond said in his statement that his party could not align itself with anyone who supported an affirmative vote in the 1942 plebiscite when the people were asked to relieve the government of its non-conscription pledges.

AGREEMENT IMPOSSIBLE

"No alliance, no agreement are possible between supporters of the affirmative and the negative supporters," said Mr. Raymond. "This election is a new plebiscite."

Mr. Cardin was among those who called for an affirmative vote in the plebiscite and observers interpreted Mr. Raymond's remarks as being directed at him.

Mr. Cardin's break with the Liberal party came when he resigned as works minister over the introduction in parliament of a bill to permit the enforcement under the National Resources Mobilization Act of conscription for overseas service.

Observers here said they believed that as Mr. Cardin did not join forces with Mr. Raymond at the time of the 1942 break from the government it was unlikely there would be any alliance now.

FOUR-WAY PACT

Earlier last week there were reports Frederic Dorion, former chief organizer of the Independents group which had five members in the last parliament, Mr. Cardin, Mr. Houde and Mr. Raymond might form a common alliance.

When the reports were drawn to Mr. Raymond's attention he said: "There had never been any question of an alliance between our party and any other party, group or movement."

Graziani Is Prisoner of Yanks

Flight, Death of Benito Mussolini Described by Chief Lieutenant

Stephen G. Barber, of the London News Chronicle, a former Associated Press war correspondent, entered Milan ahead of Allied troops Sunday. Here Barber describes the flight and death of Benito Mussolini as told to him by Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Mussolini's chief lieutenant.—EDITOR.

By STEPHEN G. BARBER

MILAN, April 30.—(AP)—Benito Mussolini is dead. Rodolfo Graziani, his war minister, is the prisoner of an American special force.

The body of Il Duce, and those of his mistress and 17 Fascist officials in his cabinet, are on show in the Piazzo Loreto in the working class suburb of Milan today. On this same spot a year ago 15 patriots were executed by the Fascists.

Mussolini and his mob were shot at 4:10 p.m. Saturday at Guilano de Mezzergere, near Como, on orders of the Italian partisan chief in the Como district.

The bodies were loaded into a truck and brought to Milan last night.

Il Duce's confederates included Alessandro Pavolini, Francesco Barracu and Paolo Zerbino. His mistress was Claretta Petacci.

ATTEMPTING ESCAPE

Mussolini was attempting to escape to Switzerland when caught.

Graziani, who is being held prisoner by an American captain with a strong guard of partisans in a hotel, told me the story of how Mussolini and his cabinet decided to escape.

The tired old butcher of Libyans, huddled in an armchair beside two aides and an Abyssinian servant, said Mussolini and his cabinet left Milan April 25 for Como. Mussolini headed the party.

"When we arrived at Como," Graziani said wearily, "we received word from him to proceed on to Menaggio. We arrived there on the 26th.

"Mussolini, who arrived first, had retired to his room, leaving word he was not to be disturbed on any account.

CABINET MEETING

"In his absence the cabinet held a meeting and decided to head for Switzerland, with Mussolini as head of the party.

"I said I could not go. I had a soldier's responsibility toward the Ligurian army group, which was composed of six divisions—three Italian and three German—which was still in combat. The whole cabinet left the following day."

MARSHAL GRAZIANI

The partisans filled in the story here. Mussolini and his group moved off toward the Swiss border on the morning of April 27. Mussolini himself was spotted in a column of some 30 German trucks by Brigadier Scapini of the Guardia Finanza (which formation had thrown in its lot with the partisans) at the lakeside town of Dongo.

He was driving alone, dressed in a militia uniform covered with a German greatcoat.

The remaining Fascist big shots were picked up a little farther on. They were found to have large sums of gold and sterling in their possession.

BODIES AT CURBSIDE

Today milling crowds of partisans and angry Milanese citizens are demonstrating around the bodies, which lie roughly thrown at the curbside.

Every now and then some maddened citizen jumps through the cordon of partisan guards to spit upon the bodies. I saw one man empty the clip of his automatic pistol into the body of the dictator. Another jumped forward and punched the flaccid, lifeless jowl.

While Il Duce and his cabinet went northward to their deaths, Graziani made tracks for Como.

"I went back to Cernbobio," continued Graziani, "where I lodged with the German SS chief Col. Fettarn.

"From there several times I tried to contact Milan's partisan chief, general Cardona to offer my surrender. Despite the Germans constantly interfering with these attempts, I eventually made contact with Cardona through the Bishop of Milan.

"Cardona told me I must surrender to the Como partisans, but I was not able to contact these.

"Finally I was able to give myself up to the American liaison captain who brought me back to custody in Milan."

Challinor James, Daily Mail correspondent writing from Milan, gave the following details concerning Mussolini's last hours:

At Nusso, Mussolini was recognized by a customs officer, who arranged for barricading the road near Dongo and for the former Duce's arrest. He made no attempt to resist.

IN CELL FRIDAY

Mussolini spent Friday night in cell number six at San Domingo prison in Como. He tried to talk to his guards and appeared to be in a terrible state of agitation.

"Why is no one here to defend me?" he shouted. Later he told his judges: "Save my life and I will give you an empire".

Soon after noon yesterday Mussolini and 30 other high Fascists were marched to the little town of Galiano di Mezzegere. The patriots "renounced all judicial procedure and went directly to the final act", an eye witness said.

Mussolini was shot in the back—the Italian method of execution-in-disgrace—and died shouting "no, no" to the firing squad.

Claretta Petacci clung to him to the last, but was shot separately.

Charges Govt. Is Destroying Surplus Planes

MELVILLE, Sask., April 30—(CP)—Provincial Resources Minister J. L. Phelps said in an address Saturday night he had been informed that surplus military airplanes in Canada are being crushed with bulldozers and burned although offers to purchase had been received from farmers.

He spoke at a Melville federal constituency CCF nominating convention which chose H. I. Benson, 49, of Saskatoon, as federal election candidate replacing Mrs. Louise Lucas, who resigned due to ill-health and now is in British Columbia.

"Somebody is going to blow a fuse soon unless something is done about this war assets business," said Mr. Phelps.

MUCH DESTROYED

Much surplus equipment was being destroyed and other equipment was finding its way back to the companies which made it in the first place. The Saskatchewan government had a high priority among those seeking such surplus equipment "But it has not been working out in practice."

There was a question on what would be done with certain surplus airplanes as Saskatchewan had need of some machines.

"I have been informed that at some points the practice is to take some parts of surplus airplanes, then line up the machines and push them together with a bulldozer, so that one can of gasoline will be enough to pour over the lot and make them burn," said Mr. Phelps.

Following his nomination, Mr. Benson said that his Liberal opponent in the election would be Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who now represents Melville constituency.

"BIG BUSINESS AGENT"

"Jimmie Gardiner is the best agent big business ever had in Western Canada," said Mr. Benson. The minister had failed to consult the producers about the prices they would obtain for their bacon, beef and eggs, he added.

Suggest Fascists Will Be Released From Internment

MONTREAL, April 30.—(CP)—The Montreal Star said it had learned that Adrien Arcand, head of the Fascist Canadian party who has been interned since the start of the war, "will soon be released" and added that "it is expected that the members of his party, including two of his lieutenants, M. Poitras and M. Gatien, will be released with him".

The newspaper said it had been reliably informed that Dr. Noel Declarie, interned at the start of the war for similar reason, had been released recently.

Mussolini Shot In Big Purge By Patriots

town of Guliano Di Mezzegere near Como and that the bodies were taken to Milan last night for public display in the square where 15 Italian patriots were executed by Fascists a year ago.

The Milan radio said Mussolini, his young sweetheart, Claretta Petacci, and 16 other Fascists were executed.

An eye-witness who reached Como yesterday told the Associated Press that Mussolini and the others were shot in the back by a firing squad of patriots. He did not mention Miss Petacci as among those executed.

American columns pushing into Milan today came to a "gruesome, horrible sight," the eye-witness said.

HUNG HEAD DOWN

"Suspended with heads downward were seven bodies. In the centre was the body of Mussolini, disfigured by blows from the crowd which has padded through the square since early morning."

The Milan station said tonight that Gen. Attilio Teruzzi, former Fascist minister for Africa, and two other members of Mussolini's puppet regime had been captured with their "enormous booty" of money and valuables.

The Rome newspaper Il Momento reported in a special edition that the Milan radio also had announced the execution of Lt.-Gen. Achille Staraci, a former vice-secretary of the Fascist party in Milan yesterday.

The newspaper said the bodies of Mussolini, Miss Petacci and several others were strung up on a large sign before a department store and that a woman had fired revolver shots at Mussolini's body, shouting, "Those are for my five sons you killed."

Today's announcement said the other 16 Fascists, including Gen. Allesandro Pavolini, secretary of Mussolini's puppet Fascist regime, were shot in the back at 5:25 p.m. Saturday at Dongo, also in Como province.

SUGGEST SCORZA KILLED

One Milan broadcast listed Carlo Scorza, former secretary-general of the Fascist party, as among those executed, but his name was omitted from later broadcasts and his fate was uncertain.

The Milan station reported Saturday that Roberto Farinacci, Mussolini's delegate to the German command, has been tried and executed by the patriot council. His name was not among those listed yesterday.

Mussolini has headed a puppet Fascist regime for the Germans since his "rescue" by German parachute troops from its Italian guards in September, 1943. He had been forced to resign as premier by the Fascist Grand Council and King Victor Emmanuel the previous July, two months before Allied troops stormed onto the Italian mainland.

ROME "SATISFIED"

Rome received word of the execution of Benito Mussolini with grim satisfaction last night.

A typical reaction was the comment by a taxi driver: "That's the only thing to do with murderers of thousands. They don't want any 45-day trials up there in the north."

Italians in Rome and elsewhere have shown increasing pride each day as word of fresh patriot uprisings reached them. Last night their pride swelled over the fact that patriots had disposed of the top-ranking Fascist war criminals without awaiting the arrival of Allied troops.

Generally there appeared to be greater interest over the Milan radio report of the execution of Claretta Petacci—mistress of the former dictator in his last years—than over the killing of the man who ruled them and brought the nation to ruin.

Romans for some time have taken it for granted that Mussolini would not long survive the war and Allied victory, but the whereabouts of Claretta have been somthing of a mystery. There had been rumors that she had fled to Spain.

Claretta was remembered in Rome as a commoner who became vain and overbearing when Mussolini's favors brought her into prominence. The people particularly detested her during the lean war years when she travelled the streets in luxurious automobiles and grew plump on the choicest foods.

To Shoot Like Rifle

Plan New Rocket Gun

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—Plans for a new kind of rocket gun, which shoots with a closed breech like a rifle or an artillery piece, have been perfected by Edward F. Chandler, research engineer and inventor, of Brooklyn.

His patent applications describe a rocket to be fired from the shoulder or other position by a gun which will have about the same recoil as a shotgun, but shooting a projectile capable of putting a small tank out of action.

Rocket guns, beginning with the Bazooka, have emitted a jet of flame at the rear of their launching tubes, which have been open at both ends. The flame has been a hazard for the men shooting the rockets and in many instances a serious handicap, because it discloses to the enemy the position of the man or crew firing the rocket.

Demonstrations Few as Peace Report Received

ceived any official notification of the surrender. He answered the telephone personally and replied in the negative.

No celebrations were reported from the Maritimes. Halifax was quiet as the news spread. Most residents of Saint John, N.B., remained close to their radios.

Police in Ottawa and Hull, Que., just across the river, were being ordered to close night clubs and amusement places when President Truman's statement was broadcast. Night clubs remained open as usual.

Toronto was quiet. Most citizens remained by their radios and crowds at theatres were not informed of the report until they were leaving. Then they were given both the report and denial.

RECEIVED QUIETLY

In Western Canada, where news of the report was received earlier because of the time difference, the report was received quietly. Closest to a demonstration was in Edmonton, where one large store put out a sign saying: "This store will be closed Monday—the war is over."

Winnipeg police reported a quiet night, even while the rumor spread through the city. At Regina, residents had a tendency to wait for official confirmation before celebrating. At Melville, Sask., people gathered about radios waiting further news and recalling the false armistice of the First Great War.

No demonstrations were reported in Vancouver although there were some scenes of jubilation in beer parlors where patrons expressed joy in song. The report was broadcast over a public address system at English Bay during a Victory Loan rally but was received in silence.

All Possible Help Needed

Subscriptions have been coming in fast enough to warrant confidence that the Northern Alberta sales division will reach its 8th Victory Loan quota, as it has reached the mark set in each preceding bond sale. But not fast enough to tempt salesmen to think the amount would be made up if they slackened their efforts, nor to cause prospective buyers to think their contributions will not be needed.

To raise $14,560,000 by a bond sale in this territory is a large undertaking in any curcumstances. It is more than usually ambitious now because seven times during the last four years sales have been made in amounts steadily rising to this figure, and in all cases the quotas have been exceeded.

To ensure the success of the effort it is necessary that every person buy, and buy as largely as possible. To this end the canvassers and sales staff will of course keep up the active effort they have been making. But they will need, as they deserve to have, the ready co-operation of the public.

The Himmler Stunt

Herr Himmler, who ranks as head butcher for the Nazis, is reported to have offered to "guarantee" unconditional surrender of Germany to the United States and Britain, with Russia left out of the deal. Naturally the attempt to split the Big Three led to nothing but a pointed rejection. The Allies are still Allies and intend to remain so.

To suggest that London and Washington make a side-bargain with Germany would be an insult whoever it came from. To suggest that they treat with Heinrich Himmler, in any circumstances or for any purpose, is also an affront. All the Allies owe to that particular scoundrel is a rope, the supplying of which is the only subject on which he is entitled to a hearing.

One of these days somebody will have to ask that the punishment of Germany come to an end, unless the country is to become the scene of interminable guerilla warfare. But surely Germans can find some more respectable spokesman than Hitler's chief assassin. And whoever does the asking will have to introduce the request by a declaration of unconditional surrender to the Allies—not to some of them.

No Time to Waste

Officially opening the San Francisco conference, President Truman reminded the delegates that the sole purpose of the gathering is to create the structure of a world security organization, and thus provide machinery which will make future peace "not only possible but inevitable." By inference and direct statement he advised the delegates to not let their attention be diverted to side-issues and the discussion of irrelevant subjects.

There are hopeful signs that this excellent advice is to be followed, that in fact it expressed a resolution already in the minds of the delegates representing the big powers at least. Mr. Eden thinks the conference need not last more than a month. General Smuts says it should wind up business in three weeks. Mr. Molotov says two weeks or ten days will be long enough to do the job.

Obviously if the conference is to get through in either of these suggested periods the delegates will have to keep their eyes on the matter in hand and not wander off on oratorical rambles through the tempting fields of theory or get into controversies with which they have properly nothing to do.

Remember These Things

If they stood alone, the massacres of political prisoners at Gardelegen and Buchenwald would convict the Nazi party of savagery only displayed in modern times in the areas outside Germany which were over-run by them and the areas in the Far East which were over-run by their war-partners.

But these outrages do not stand alone. They line up with reports which have come from other points in the Reich as the Allied armies have unearthed evidence of atrocities and have liberated eye witnesses of crimes committed by men in the Nazi uniform and under command of Nazi officers. The killing of political prisoners in Germany has been part and parcel of the Hitler policy, as real and as ruthless as the slaughter of men, women and children in the invaded countries.

Such brutality of course arouses horror and revulsion. But it also carries a temptation to the reader to leave the stories unread because they are so revolting. Just there lies a danger. People in all the Allied countries should familiarize themselves with these authenticated instances of barbarity sufficiently that there will be no danger of forgetting them in the passing years.

Only of they do this will there be the unceasing vigilance which—for fifty years or more—must be maintained if the "Hitler youth" is not to plot another fiend's carnival.* And only so will there be the energetic and sustained effort to re-educate young Germany, upon which rests the hope that civilisation can be restored there within a half century.

V

Why Not Finish the Job?

People in the Fort Frances district propose to create a war memorial of an unusul kind, perhaps unusual because so obviously practicable. They plan to plant trees along an eight-mile stretch of main highway, a tree for each man enlisted in the armed forces from that area.

A project of that kind was undertaken in this locality at the close of the First Great War. The idea was to plant trees along the highway from Edmonton to Fort Saskatchewan. The trees were set out along a good part of the route, if not all the way. But subsequent neglect defeated the purpose, chiefly because trees which died or were destroyed were not replaced. The enterprise thus fell short of fulfillment, and only occasional survivors are now to be seen along what would have been by this time a beautifully treed highway twenty miles in length.

It should be possible to revive interest in this project now that another war is drawing toward a close, and carry it to completion after the lapse of many years. Not much imagination is needed to sense how attractive that piece of one of the original cross-prairie trails would now be if the plan of twenty-odd years ago had been carried through to success.

Looking Backward

From The Bulletin Files

1895: 50 Years Ago

S. Malterner leaves tomorrow with E. Nagle on an exploring expedition to the far north.

I. Cowie, real estate and insurance agent, has opened an office in the Edmonton hotel, South Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Welbourne arrived from Toronto last week.

Hugh Cinnamon, of Cinnamon Brothers, ranchers of Vermilion Creek, southeast of Victoria, was in town yesterday.

C. Johnson, tracer of the Landing, is in town.

R. Secord is shipping the last of 40 tons of freight to the Landing for his northern trade.

If the present service of two mixed trains a week were replaced by three such trains it would be a great improvement. But The Bulletin believes that the proper service for this road is not three mixed trains per week but three passenger trains, with freight trains twice or three times a week.

Owing to the prospective resignation of F. W. G. Haultain, MLA for Macleod, from the Northwest Assembly, Messrs. McKenzie and Wood of Macleod, and Morden and Herron of Pincher Creek, are offering for the representation of the district.

It is expected the government will submit the remedial legislation as a government measure, and allow Ontario Conservative members to vote against it, trusting to the joint vote of Quebec Conservatives and Liberals to sustain the government. This will save its Ontario supporters and ditch McCarthy.

1905: 40 Years Ago

Notices have been posted by the Northwest government that the hamlet of Athabasca Landing will be established as a village on May 15.

The Japanese fleet is said to be south of Formosa waiting for Rojestvensky.

The Japanese have resumed the offensive against the Russians north of Mukden.

The city commissioners were instructed by council to inspect a site for the proposed isolation hospital on the river bank below the bridge.

Mayor Cannon of Beaudette, Minn., was murdered when he failed to leave town as ordered.

Regina taxpayers approved a by-law to raise $160,000 for a waterworks system.

Russian sources give the Russian losses in the fighting around Mukden at 87,000 men.

1915: 30 Years Ago

London.—The tremendous battle which began with the German attack on the arch-like front of the Allies around Ypres, in the plains of Flanders, continues with undiminished fury.

London.—Too great expectations were aroused in the preliminary operations of the Allied fleet at the Dardanelles. A large army will be necessary to carry out the land operations in conjunction with the fleet. An official statement says the disembarkation of the army was continued yesterday, the operation being covered by the fleet. Despite strong opposition from the Turks, the landing was successful and large forces have established themselves on the Gallipoli peninsula.

Washington.—The Kron Prinz Wilhelm is to intern at Newport News for the duration of the war.

Chicago.—Seventy thousand persons joined in a parade to celebrate the election of William Hale Thompson as mayor.

Winnipeg.—May wheat reached $1.65⅞.

1925: 20 Years Ago

London.—There is a flood of comment on account of refusal of the authorities of Westminster Abbey to allow the funeral of Gen. Rawlinson to be held there. Gen. Rawlinson was commander in chief of British troops in India during the recent disturbances there.

Ottawa.—Premiers Oliver of British Columbia and Greenfield of Alberta are here to urge the construction of a railway line from Peace River to the coast.

Washington.—An arrangement by which the New York Federal Reserve Bank will buy pound sterling bills in the open market at the request of the Bank of England is looked upon by Secretary Mellon as a desirable means of stabilizing exchange.

1935: 10 Years Ago

Edmonton's unemployed strike started this morning and is apparently 100 per cent. A few men who had drawn work tickets were persuaded by strike pickets not to go on the job at the city stables.

London.—Sir John Simon told the House of Commons that the German government has intimated that orders have been given for the construction of 12 submarines of 250 tons each.

Vancouver.—Mayor McGeer said Vancouver could avoid bankruptcy only if the Dominion took over the cost of unemployment relief, the province provided the cost of policing the city, and bondholders agreed to cut interest rates to 3 per cent.

London.—On the heels of conscription news comes that Germany has air strength greater than Britain's home defence force and that a new submarine fleet is under construction. Now comes news that a great airplane base has been built on the Island of Sylt.

Ottawa.—The Canadian legation at Washington has been asked to obtain a copy of the Wilcox airbase bill, which is said to propose powerful airbases near the Canadian border.

First Test of World Organization for Peace

Opinion Widely Divided In England on Present Plan

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

LONDON, Eng.—The San Francisco Conference has opened with the greatest hopes but, alas, not without considerable fears. In this country, its statutes have been debated in both houses of parliament in extenso, discussed on a very high level in the press, and have furnished an endless topic of conversation in private gatherings.

Dorothy Thompson

The Dumbarton Oaks plan has both its supporters and critics here, but among the latter are few who will not accept it in lieu of anything better, and in the hope that with time it will be improved.

Supporters, who on the whole are more often Conservative than Liberal or Labor, say the Dumbarton Oaks plan avoids hypocrisy and recognizes the world situation for what it is. The old League pretended to be able to settle the quarrels of great powers and failed. The new League does not even pretend and so long as great powers do not quarrel, the new organization will be able to prevent minor wars and do much useful work. It is better, says the economist, that these limitations should be realized from the beginning and those dangerous illusions of millenial peace that stood at the cradle of the old League should not greet the birth of new.

In general, the viewpoint is that although there could be much better schemes for an international organization than that drawn up at Dumbarton Oaks, none would be practical in present circumstances because none would be accepted by the present Allies.

The opposition to this viewpoint has perhaps been best and most briefly expressed by Professor Gilbert Murray, a leading champion since the last war of a general system of collective security. Professor Murray in a letter to the London Times, says, "I have read many speeches on the Crimean compromise with growing conviction that people do not understand what a profound reversal it involves of the Dumbarton Oaks policy and how absolutely necessary it will be to reconsider one part of it."

The Dumbarton Oaks scheme provided that the five great powers should maintain large forces of arms instantly ready to prevent aggression. The veto introduced by the Crimean compromise enables any great power (1) to commit aggression if it likes, and (2) to veto any action by the other powers to prevent the aggression. That is to say the large armaments proposed at Dumbarton Oaks are to be kept in constant readiness but their purpose is reserved. They are free to commit but are not permitted to prevent aggression. Obviously, this was never intended and it will have to be modified.

Aggressions by small powers can be stopped without much trouble unless they are instigated or supported by a powerful protector. To this must be added that small powers seldom engage in wars unless they have the previously promised support of great powers, but the test whether great powers can get on together is not something for the unknown future—it is, alas, of the present.

At the opening of the San Francisco conference that test is the issue of Poland. Both in this country and the United States the governments recognize it as the test. They are united in that the Crimea agreement must be scrupulously kept.

Mr. Roosevelt, in particular, was not wholly satisfied with the frontiers drawn in Yalta, but accepted them for the sake of agreement. Neither here nor in the United States is the London government anyone's pet. Every pressure has been put upon it and on the individual or former members to make peace with Moscow. But both governments are resolved that Poland, within whatever frontiers, shall have a government of its own choice with all parties that participated in resistance to Germany able to present their views without fear of suppression or arrest and with the will of the majority absolutely free to function.

If that first test of the world organization fails, the augury for its future success will be poor indeed.

Two Principles of World Trade

By B. T. RICHARDSON

WASHINGTON: If the United States chose high tariffs and rejected the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act, it would revert to isolationism in its policies, Henry Wallace told the House ways and means committee. The grey-thatched secretary of commerce, who is regarded as the storm centre of the Washington battle between liberal and reactionary polices, asserted that America's choice, as world leader, was between a world of expanding trade and peace and "a wave of mounting barriers, state trading and bilateral agreements" in which private enterprise would have little chance to survive.

Wallace faced an hour of badgering from the senior Republican on the committee, Harold Knutson of Minnesota, cigar-chewing isolationist, before a crowd which packed the ornate committee room. His questions, implying that Wallace intended to destroy inefficient industry, that he believed in the philosophy of scarcity, and demanding whether he favored the Russian system, failed to exasperate the former vice-president.

With a wry smile, he said: "I am not beating my wife any more," as a wave of amusement passed over the spectators. Infuriate, Knutson shouted: "That should go into the society column, and Washington will be very glad to hear it."

To an observer, this strange scene illustrated the overtone of domestic politics which clouded U.S. foreign policy on a crucial subject like reciprocal trade, but whatever attention Knutson attracts outside the United States must be weighed against the overwhelming testimony on the side of American leadership in ending economic warfare.

A. Willis Robertson, a Democrat congressman from Virginoa, followed Knutson, and quoted Commander Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, now a U.S. delegate to San Francisco, that American economic co-operation was essential to future peace. Robertson said Stassen was "the most popular, most influential" figure from Minnesota, while Knutson sat chewing a cigar, glowering at Wallace.

Wallace's argument was that, if 60,000,000 persons were to find jobs in United States after the war, then exports at the level of $10 billions a year would provide employment for 5,000,000 of them. It was time to remove trade from the realm of strategy to the field of economics. Reciprocal trade would create post-war jobs. Reduction of trade barriers would cut down direct government intervention in commerce and reduce international frictions. Dealing with the argument that foreign goods meant competition from cheap foreign labor, Wallace made two key points: that much of the consumer's expenditure on imports stayed in the country, because three-quarters of the retail price often accrued in the merchandising of imports after they arrived; and it was not wages, but unit costs, which determined the competitive position.

Wallace hoped the United States would never return to policies of reducing production of cotton and hogs and wheat. He said that, in 1932, the farmers lost out when industry had "plowed out half its workers." As to the policy of subsidies for U.S. cotton, wheat and other products, he asserted that this was "a form of cut-throat competition." "A type of economic warfare," he said; "I hope we'll get away from that kind of world." Regarding state trading, he said: "I have a horror of that approach."

Vote for Youths

Editor Bulletin: Regarding giving youths of 18 the vote, on the assumption that because they make good and gallant soldiers, they somehow miraculously acquire the judgment and experience which only age can bring.

This argument as you point out is just nonsense, and the object of those in favor of such a move is plainly in sight. Youth is the time for rebellion and they are far more likely to vote agin the government in power, as not.

Anyhow, youth has much nicer things to think about than politics.

No Resemblance

Editor, Bulletin: Re editorial in The Bulletin Saturday, 21 April, on what basis is the comparison drawn between Mr. Coldwell and Herr Hitler? Physically there can surely be no resemblance found. Their way of living can form no parallel to support your reference. Hitler was the leader of a party in Germany which was not socialistic in any way; Mr. Coldwell is a leader of a socialist party, but will not be a leader of this party if he does not conform to the plans made by the people of that party. Hitler after the original build-up which put him into power used force and fear to maintain his position. Surely no one would be so gullible as to believe that a man of Mr. Coldwell's calibre, a good law-abiding Canadian citizen could or would be a potential Hitler here in Canada.

The reforms this socialist party are working for are surely necessary unless Canada is going to try to stand still in a world which recognizes progress as inevitable and right.

I believe Canadians are sufficiently intelligent to solve these problems in a way that will be suitable to the conditions here in Canada without any help from any other country though we could take a few tips from the comparison of progress made by Russia under difficulties greater than any we have to meet. The implication that we would try to transfer bodily a plan that has been accepted by any other country in the world is insulting our intelligence and the reference to Naziism is pointless to say the least.

A little constructive criticism, please!!

Idea for V-Day

Editor Bulletin: I suggest a new idea for the day that Germany surrenders.

Let the whistles blow and the bells ring.

A suitable time of silence to be dedicated to prayers to God for our first great step in total victory, a prayer for those still fighting elsewhere.

Then go back to work to keep faith with those who are not yet free to celebrate.

Remember the boys overseas won't be free to throw up their jobs for a moment.

How can we have a proper celebration without all our comrades home again?

Make a day of great rejoicing when the boys come home.

First School of Journalism

From the St. Tomas Times-Journal

Of interest to a great many young people is the announcement that a four years course in journalism will be established at the University of Western Ontario at London next Fall. The university authorities have been in consultation with a number of Canadian newspapermen regarding this course, and they have also investigated the schools of journalism in the United States where there are post-graduate courses and under-graduate, with the result that the latter type has been selected for the University of Western Ontario. The Senate believed that the spread of training in journalism over several years gives the student a better opportunity to assimilate the principles and attitudes involved, both on the professional side of journalism and in respect to the humanities on which the training of a successful journalist rests.

This will be the first course in journalism in Canada. The first school of journalism in the world was established in 1869 by General Robert E. Lee at Washington College, but atfer his death it was abolished. The first successful school was opened at Columbia University in 1912 through a $2,000,000 gift by Joseph Pulitzer, since when about 50 other universities and colleges have complete courses, and journalism is also taught in a smaller way in something like 200 other universities, colleges and high schools.

When the course is inaugurated at Western it will be the first and only one in Canada.

Generally speaking the essentials of a prospective newspaperman are a good general education, with special qualifications in English, history and economics, but it is often a profitable thing for a man—or woman—to acquire special knowledge on a special subject upon which he or she can write with authority.

With regard to this proposed course at Western, there is one factor we would like to stress. And that is that unless a student shows real talent for journalism, he or she should be diplomatically advised to quit and seek another line. It was our privilege to know the dean of a school of journalism in the United States, a man of long newspaper experience, and he informed us that the great drawback to the institution was that students who fancied themselves as newspaper workers were permitted to continue the course to the end whether they possessed the gifts for the career or not. The school jammed students through for the diploma, whether they were worth it or not. The result was that it turned out quantity rather than quality. Because of that policy our friend voluntarily gave up the job.

The real value of a school of journalism rests on the high standard of its graduates, just as in any other calling, and newspaper publishers will be chary of employing embryo newspaper workers if they do not measure up to a high all-round standard.

Unless the school maintains such a standard it will fail of its purpose. Whether a young man or woman has the makings of a real journalist can be ascertained in a week or two. If they have the innate talent, if they have the "bug", it will reveal itself immediately. If they have not got it they will soon prove themselves failures.

But if they have the true gift they will be much better journalists for acquiring the valuable educational background such as they will get at the University of Western Ontario School of Journalism.

Facts About Canada's Meat

By Alexander R. George for the Associated Press

Americans who have visited Canada recently found it astonishingly easy to get steaks in restaurants. They saw butcher shops stocked with good red meats, in painful contrast with scrawny supplies of pig tails and "variety" whatnots at home.

Yet Canadian Government figures show civilian consumption of fresh meat in that country was 138.8 pounds per person in 1944, compared with 147 pounds per person in the United States.

Then why is there a severe shortage in the States and no apparent lack of meat in the Dominion?

A much more even distribution of meat in Canada is the main answer.

A larger proportion of Canadians got an amount of meat closer to their 138 pound "quota", and in this country, many millions—particularly those in large eastern cities—got considerably less than their "quota" of 147 pounds. Other Americans, living near producing areas, got more than their share.

Here are some reasons why Canada has a more even distribution of meat:

1. A much smaller and more rural population — 11,500,000 as against our 131,000,000—makes it easier to apportion supplies and regulate prices.

2. Canada has not experienced the huge wartime shifts in population which complicate the distribution job.

3. Canada's two big cities, Montreal and Toronto, can get most of their meat from nearby producing areas.

4. A single agency in Canada, the Prices Board, controls supply, distribution and rationing. In this country the OPA controls rationing and the War Food Administration regulates distribution and total supply. Their objectives are frequently in conflict.

A smaller population makes it easier to connect production distribution. An official in Ottawa can pick up his telephone and within half an hour reach the three meat packing houses which do 70 per cent. of the business in the Dominion.

Anothe. factor is the American ban on inter-state shipments of meat which is not Federal-inspected. Nearly half the civilian supply in this country is not so inspected. This results in relatively big supplies in the large prroducing areas and severe shortages in other areas.

Canada has a similar inter-province shipment law, but consumers there are not hit so hard because a larger percentage of Canadian meat is Federal-inspected and because of smaller, more evenly distributed population.

WFA has worked out a plan for a more equitable distribution of live stock among slaughterers of meat. Some food authorities, however, question whether a plan of apportioning live stock to some 23,000 licensed slaughter houses can be efficient.

Prospects are that Canadians will have a substantially larger allotment of meat than Americans in 1945. The estimate for Canada is 131.9 pounds per person. The estimate for the United States is 115 pounds, 32 pounds less per person than last year.

Struggle Behind Pool Probe

By J. H. GRAY

OTTAWA: The dominant fact behind and beneath the appointment of the McDougall Commission on the taxation of co-operatives is the long, and at times bitter, struggle between the western Pools and the private line elevator companies. Occasionally observers at the Commission have got fleeting glimpses of this struggle, glimpses which revealed rival grand strategy at work.

There were a couple of such glimpses at the Tuesday session of the Commission. The private companies and the co-operatives compete vigorously for the farmer's business wherever they touch. The fact that the Pools do not pay income tax gives them a great advantage over the private trade which, in addition, still gets black-eyes for the peccaddillos of the early elevator free-booters. The competition between the line elevators and the Pools undoubtedly has provided farmers with much better service than any monopoly could have provided.

When, as a result of pressure on the government from all sides, the Commission on co-operatives was set up, the strategists for the embattled giants got busy. The line elevators, on the one hand, hoped that the Cimmission would get financial statements from the co-operatives and that these could be used as a basis for cross-examination of Pool witnesses. The Commission got these statements but the chairman made it plain Tuesday, as he has done before, that these are for the Commission alone. The line elevator counsel hence had to rely on the published financial statements of the Pools, and they had no field day with Pool witnesses.

The Pool strategists, on the other hand, hoped that the line elevator companies would produce balance sheets to show that they were being driven into bankruptcy by the Pools. They could take them apart, delve into the history of line elevator companies and have their own field day. Nothing like this will happen. The Commission will be no fishing expedition for anybody.

Mr. Wesson of the Saskatchewan Pool took up most of Tuesday. He was questioned at length about Pool policy and, except for a habit of anticipating questions and answering them before they were put to him, he held up pretty well. He was asked about statements made in Regina when the question of taxing Pools was being kicked around. He said then, and repeated it Tuesday, that the Pools were not going to pay income tax and, if they were held liable for tax, they would provide a remedy themselves. This would be to so reduce their charges that they would have no surplus to tax. The effect of this, he said, would be to drive the private elevators out of business in a few years.

This, of course, would land the farmers in the grip of a monopoly, and western farmers have been fighting monopolies since the first sod was turned. Despite patronage dividends, despite a continuing educational campaign, farmers by the thousands in the West still preferred to market through the private line companies. Mr. Wesson recognized this and was prepared to accept it. He did not relish driving his competitors out of business, but "co-operatives should not be taxed on the savings of their members, and they would not be taxed." That's all there was to it.

The flour millers, who followed Mr. Wesson, argued that as taxation was necessary for the operation of the community, all business enterprise should be treated equally—including co-operatives. If they dodged their fair share of the community burden of taxation on corporation profits, they should be taxed some other way.

The Commission now expects to conclude its formal session this week. Then three members will go to London and two to Washington in search for a solution for their thorny problem. They have now heard 168 briefs and 6,712 pages of testimony have been recorded. Despite this volume of wordage the Commission retains its rare good humor and the chairman his wry wit.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Is Held

On Friday evening April 21 Edmonton All Saints Mission and the 4th Edmonton All Saints Girl Guides held a mother-daughter banquet at All Saints parish hall on the 21st anniversary of the 4th company.

Seated at the head table were the Very Rev. A. M. Trendell and Mrs. Trendell; the Rev. W. W. Buxton and Mrs. Buxton; Mrs. E. C. Pardee, provincial commissioner; Mrs. Walker Taylor, divisional commissioner; Mrs. H. L. Weir, district commissioner; Miss Gwen Rhys, district captain; and company captains Marjorie Smith and Mary Chisman. Other guests were Mrs. R. Coles and Miss Betty Brown, former captains of the 4th company, as well as Brown Owls Doris Rhys and Fran Chaplen.

Birthday cake was cut by Mrs. Coles. Dean Trendell proposed a toast to the King; Mr. Buxton to the Girl Guides; Mrs. Taylor to Old Guides; Victoria Cornish to the mothers.

Program consisted of a skit presented by the 21st company, and a play by the 4th company.

The 20th Edmonton pack at Robertson Church had Mrs. A. Gillies, district commissioner, as guest. She presented Golden Hand badges to Sadie Rossum, Marion Mitchell and Ina Marks; Golden Bar badges to Betty Mair and Mary Lynn Huston.

The Brownies planted a box of flower seeds at a pack meeting. Later the plants will be transferred to Lilly cups for Mothers' Day gifts.

Four Brownies who are working on their Golden Hand badge recently cooked dinner for Brown Owl Mrs. P. A. Rooney. They were Evelyn Clark, Marion Mitchell, Sadie Rossum and Patricia Hall.

During the last two weeks, the following Brownies of the 4th Edmonton All Saints pack have earned their First Order badges: Barbara Allison, Barbara Drabble, Dee McIlvena, Pat Harvie, Bernie Belter, Elaine Hirst and June Common.

ST. MARY'S

By June Lovette

In order distinguish themselves, the members of the Separate High School Students' Union executive have created an artistic "44-45" crest which will be worn only by the privileged executives themselves.

The tables have been turned slightly and the glee club, "Sep. Discords" has become a variety club—including dancing, badminton, singing, etc.

The renowned school orchestra "Sep. Swingsters" under the leadership of Martin Admason, is, according to all rumors something "out of this world". Some of the students have not as yet had an opportunity to lend their ears to this band, but we are sure that when they do all will agree with rumors!

At a recent executive meeting, a group of six, including Elaine Sayers, Audrey Rosenthal, Lucille Dubord, Henry Yamuchi, Elwood Schell, and Kevin McGinley, were appointed to discuss the forthcoming constitution. Further discussion will determine the clauses of this constitution, which is to be set up in the near future.

ST. JOSEPH'S

By Elwood Skell

St. Joseph's has lost two staunch props of the Students' Union executive, namely Vice-President Roy Sheppard and Secretary-Treasurer Pat Dea. These boys are now with the Infantry Corps of the Canadian Army.

Tickets for our school year play "Lunatics at Large," are now available. They may be obtained from students of St. Joseph's and St. Mary's. The play under the direction of Laurier Picard should guarantee a well polished piece of work.

Grade 12 won our school house league final. After defeating Grade 10A in two furious games of the semi finals, the squad defeated the highly favored 11A, in a best of three games.

The recent learn-to-dance session at St. Mary's Gym turned out to be an unexpected success. Jean Burnett kept order and in general conducted the show.

McDOUGALL

By Deby Taradash

The combined boys' fashion and talent "Lit" last Friday was a success. The styles modelled by the "girls" were fashions of the future, perhaps the 1980's. Those on parade were: perfect secretary, Roy Gilley master of ceremonies; model housewife, William Jackowinik; perfect teacher, Metro Chobotuck; sweater girl, Gordon Speers, Miss Conservation, Vernon Silvers; Miss Warworker, William Runka; Miss Sophistication, Bruce Greene, and Miss Graduation, Don Wilson.

Some of the best talent in the school made up the other half of the program. Gaynor Webster, displayed her talent by doing a tricky tap dance routine. She was accompanied at the piano by Pat Campbell. Kathleen Billingsly, an oldtimer this year, recited "Da Besta Frand" by T. A. Daly. Silvia Robertson gave a lovely piano interpretation of Butterflies. A skit entitled "The Magic Bell Tower", put on by some of the junior students, was received by the student body with much humor. The Five Shades of Blue, a newly formed band played several favorites, Georgia On My Mind, Blue Skies, and others. Those in the band were: Barry Rose, Ruby Ford, Moe. Goorevitch, Hal Simovich, and vocalist, Joyce Edmunsdon.

The program was closed with the flag salute led by Frank Lang, and God Save The King was played by Pat Campbell.

After winning last week in the Little Red School House program, Commercial forfeited honors to Westglen High.

During the week two games in basketball were played at the school. On Tuesday Com'l lost to Victoria High 43-18. On Wednesday, Commercial defeated Eastwood 37-22.

A shipment of pennants and school sweaters was received this week. It was reported that school pins, ordered several months ago, would go on sale in May.

April edition of the Chronicle was out this week and true to tradition was full of jokes, stories and gossip.

George Gillies, valedictorian of Class '45, has been awarded the Wees Cup for his high academic standing; and Neil Taylor, president of the Students' Union, has been awarded the Greisdorf Cup for general proficiency. The cups will be presented to the boys at the annual graduation banquet and dance which will be held at the Macdonald hotel on June 8. Along with these awards, the usual academic and athletic crests will be presented to deserving students.

Sport highlights were focussed this week on Soccer. House-League teams have been formed with Dick Bradshaw, Angus Maclean, Donn Roberts, and Neil Taylor, captaining the four teams.

The school Victory Loan drive started out on the right road on Wednesday with a total of $1,450 bought. Mr. Heywood is in charge of Bond Sales for the school.

EASTWOOD

By Linnea Vikman

A dark cloud has suddenly loomed up to threaten our otherwise gay and happy lives. Those uncomfortable-looking white sheets and brown envelopes, otherwise known as report cards, have again made their appearance. But the shock wasn't expected to be too great, since most of us already know what to expect.

Room 23 is the most interesting one at Eastwood High. Every once in a while the Art I class puts up an exhibit of their work, the latest one being a display of self-portraits. Perhaps after seeing the art of Miss Chang K'un I think they have all decided to be artists.

The basketball season came to an end for Eastwood High on Wednesday when an all-star team chosen from the Boys' House League played Commercial Juniors. The Commercial cagers outscored Eastwood 37-22. In a previous game at Commercial, our boys lost out in a closely-contested match, the final score being 34-40. With the basketball season over, football and hardball occupy the spotlight. Fastball is now in full swing with a six-team house league functioning smoothly. The teams are captained by Hugh Slater, Jim Burke, Lloyd Yakimowich, Clayton Richman, Luke Pringle and Jim Stewart.

To stimulate the sale of war savings stamps, the committee is trying everything in its power. Results of their efforts are beginning to show as the various rooms strive to reach their monthly quota. Room 12 seems to be in the lead so far this month with total sale of $15.

VICTORIA

By Peggy Johnson

Vic's annual golf tournament is well underway in spite of constantly changing weather conditions and the qualifying round will be completed by Sunday. Fred Campbell is official scorekeeper.

Members of Vic's ISCF club are looking forward to an interesting week-end conference to be held at Wetaskiwin. Delegates will attend from Red Deer, Wetaskiwin and Edmonton.

"Starlight Fantasy," the annual Girls' Hi-Y semi-formal dance sponsored by the Central Council was held Friday at the Macdonald hotel with the smooth music of Frank McLeavey's orchestra. Over 400 perosns attended.

At the first meeting of the Boys' Tumbling Club, Peter Shipka was elected president. Meetings are held twice weekly under supervision of W. R. Stewart. Public demonstration may be given later in the term.

WESTGLEN

By Bill McLeod

Undaunted by the unpredictable weather, Westglenners have chosen house league teams, hardball for boys and fastball for girls. Campbell Young, Clem Kerr, Bill Pettinger and George Greenwood have been elected boys' hardball captains. With hardball in its third year at Westglen there are many enthusiastic players to be chosen from. The girls have chosen Mildred Muttart, Evelyn Bird, Anna Peterson and Berniece Thyne as fastball leaders.

A team from Westglen took top honors on a radio quiz show last Tuesday defeating McDougall's team by a clear majority. Winning students were Dave Smith, Evelyn Silk, Bill McLeod and Nancy Johnson.

UNIVERSITY

By Kay Tanner

This week brought the results of exams to students of UHS. However, a brighter side of the picture was the greeting of former classmates now in uniform. Varsity High always welcomes old comrades and enjoys hearing their experiences.

A new order of school pins has arrived and is in great demand. The sale of these will continue until the supply is gone.

Students of UHS obediently said "ah" on Thursday and Friday, as the medical examiners came around for the annual check-up.

The sports field is just in the transition stage from winter to summer sports. The basketball teams are closing a very enjoyable year, and most of the players, as well as other enthusiasts are looking forward to a season of softball as soon as the weather allows. The badminton club is winding up its activities with a tournament, which will be completed next Monday night. The city tournament planned for next week-end is being looked forward to by all badminton loving fans from UHS.

McCoy Health Service

A cramp refers to a painful contraction of one or more muscles, occurring suddenly and involuntarily. The popular way of describing one of these cramping pains is to call it a "drawing" pain. When a cramp is severe, the pain has a peculiar knife-like character and the patient feels this sudden, hot stab of pain which comes on with surprising quickness.

Many people suffer from occasional painful spasmodic cramps, usually located either in the legs or abdomen, due to the presence of a toxic irritant, or to poor circulation. Or, such cramps may be occupational in nature being due to the nature of the patient's work which calls into play a limited group of muscles and induces an exceptional strain upon the nerves.

The occupational cramp produces a paralysis of certain muscles because of excessive use and is usually used with a qualifying word, as "Writer's" cramp or "Telegrapher's" cramp.

Cramps may also be caused by poor circulation which allows the blood to flow sluggishly with the result that the toxins are not properly washed out of the muscles. The defective circulation is generally due to lack of exercise, however in the older patient, it may also be produced as the result of hardening of the arteries. The herdening arteries fail to allow the blood to flow through them normally and the cramp is the expression of the lessened blood supply. Cramps due to poor circulation frequently occur in the calves of the legs and in extreme cases the spasmodic contraction may be so severe as to seem to tie the muscles in knots.

Although insufficient exercise is usually the cause of cramps in young patients, there is another type of cramp occurring in athletes who are over-trained and have strained the muscles. Cramps in the abdominal area may occur with swimmers who enter cold water too soon after eating, or may be the result of eating some food which has disagreed with the patient. The word "cramps" used colloquially refers to painful menstruation.

Remember that all cramps are due to some neglect of the body: either to wrong food, over-work, lack of exercise or faulty elimination. Correct diet, rest periods, regular exercise in moderation, and avoidance of constipation will bring relief in most cases of painful cramps not due to arterial hardening.

When seeking to relieve a painful cramp in the leg, try immersing the leg in hot water or apply hot towels over the cramped area. A squeezing massage, working the blood toward the heart is also of value. In cases of abdominal cramps, it is usually advisable to use a warm enema and hot applications over the entire lower abdomen.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self addressed envelope must be enclosed. Write on one side of paper only. Letters must not exceed 150 words. Address McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1151 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Rural Platoons Report Good Parade Attendance

The platoons of "C" Coy., located at Fort Saskatchewan, Ross Creek, Lamont and Chipman report a good attendance at their parades and keen interest in their work.

A demonstration of the No. 58 wireless set, otherwise known as the "Walkie-talkie," will be given to the Battalion at the Prince of Wales Armouries on Thursday 3rd May by Lieut. J. R. Watson, unit Signal Officer. This will be followed by a short course on the same subject to the officers, who will be required to use these sets during the summer camp at Sarcee.

The Mortar Platoon under Lt. J. R. Carmichael and Sgts. L. A. Wynn, C. J. Dunn and L. Colborne has completed an intensive course on 3" Mortar, and are about ready to give the Battalion a demonstration in engaging various targets with live H.E., and Smoke bombs. This event is always eagerly anticipated by the Battalion as it is both interesting and instructive.

61st (R) FIELD BATTERY, RCA

The 61st (R) Battery, RCA has been going through intensive rifle and Bren gun training in preparation for firing practices at the Winterburn range. This training has been under the supervision of Lt. Bucham, assisted by Sgt. Harrison.

Sgt. Harrison has just completed a course in the latest methods of army communications and on the newest types of equipment.

The Battery further increased its strength by the addition of six new recruits, Gunners Gerald MacDonald, Allan Knight, Stuart McLean, Clem Kerr, W. Humphreys and Gerald McFayden.

4th CASUALTY CLEARING STATION AND 13th FIELD HYGIENE SECTION

In preparation of the conducting of a demonstration in elementary first-aid a review on this subject was held at a parade of the above units on April 20. Some new methods of applying the various bandages were demonstrated and it is anticipated that more detailed instruction in this work will be given at future parades. It is also proposed to combine elementary first-aid with other training in night schemes and week-end exercises.

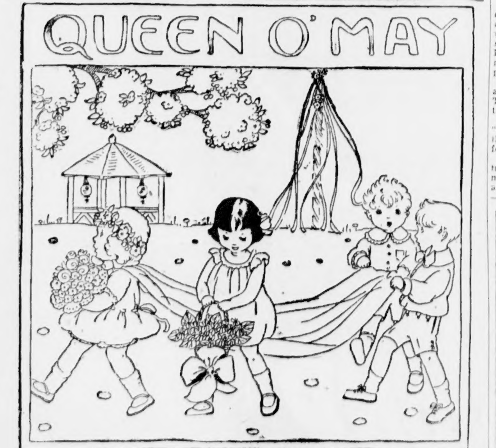
Liberal Candidate For West Calgary

CALGARY, April 30 — (CP) — Charles C. Matthews, farmer and business man, has been chosen by the Liberals of Calgary West to represent them in the June 11 election. Only other candidate at the convention was Wilfrid Bennett. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of veterans' affairs, was convention speaker.



(To be colored with paints or crayons. Whenever you came to a word spelled in CAPITAL letters use that color.)

There's a bright BLUE sky for May Day, and great big bunches of PINK (use RED lightly) blossoms on the BROWN limbs of the old apple tree. The tiny leaves are light GREEN. The lawn is bright GREEN with YELLOW dandelions spotting it all over. Of course, there is a May Pole with YELLOW, PURPLE and ORANGE (use RED and YELLOW mixed) ribbons, and a little garland of PINK flowers with light GREEN leaves trimming it. The pavilion is BROWN and is decorated with two YELLOW paper lanterns.

YELLOW-haired Susie May is Queen O' May, of course. She has PINK flowers on her head and carries a big bouquet of YELLOW roses and BLUE forget-me-nots all frilled about with white lace paper. Her dress is light BLUE with a PINK ribbon sash; her shoes and stockings are BLUE too. BROWN-haired Teddy shares the honor of holding the "Queen's PINK chiffon train with YELLOW-haired Bobby.

Teddy wears a big BLUE tie, and his trousers are BLUE too. His blouse is white. Bobby wears a light CREAM color (use YELLOW lightly) suit. It has white collar and cuffs. Teddy has BROWN shoes and white socks. Bobby's shoes are TAN (use BROWN and YELLOW mixed). Susie May's best friend, Mary, carries all the "Queen's" best flowers in a YELLOW basket. The flowers are BLUE violets (use a wee bit of PURPLE at the centre of the bunch). The violets have big GREEN leaves. There is a large PURPLE bow of ribbon on the basket. Mary's dress is ORANGE color, so are her shoes and socks and the ribbon in her hair.

Everybody has PINK cheeks and you may use just a little touch of PINK on their bare arms and legs at the knuckles, elbows and knees.

The border can be PINK extending back of the lettering, which can be the color of the sky.

So You're Going TO THE "STATES"

Whether you are going soon, or are planning a trip postwar, here's a helpful booklet titled—"Border Crossing Travel Tips." Just off the press, it outlines simple customs and immigration requirements for leaving and returning to the province—it gives helpful hints on wartime traveling. Wounded Overseas, Spr. Kaasa Returns

MILLET: Spr. George Kaasa arrived home Wednesday to spend 30 days' leave with his family.

Spr. Kaasa enlisted in 1942 and took most of his training in Chilliwack, going overseas in 1943, where he served with the chemical warfare branch in Holland, France and Belgium. In Belgium he had his right leg severely injured resulting in his return to hospital in England. While in hospital he met Ivy Bottrill, and they were married on March 17, just before he sailed for home.

He is making plans now to take up farming.

Spr. Kaasa was born in Cabri, Sask., in 1922, and came to Alberta with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kaasa, to farm near Millet ten years ago.

Enter Trieste

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—A Belgrade broadcast reported by the federal communications commission today declared that Yugoslav partisan troops had entered the Italian port of Trieste, less than 75 miles from the British 8th Army's last reported positions along the Piave river.

Germans Bury Jewish Victims

IN GERMANY, April 30.—(CP)—The bodies of 161 Polish Jews who were murdered by SS troopers were moved from roadside mudholes and buried by the Germans in the town of Neunberg. The burial was carried out at the direction of American army officers.

All of the victims, who had faltered on the march from Flossenberg and Buchenwald concentration camps, had been shot through the head or clubbed to death by SS guards.

While the 2,200 residents of Neunberg, a town 12 miles east of Schwandorf, filed past the graves and viewed the emaciated bodies, an American sergeant told them over a public address system, "the people of the civilized world hold you responsible. This is the work of all the German people."

Wave of Suicides Leipzig District

WITH U.S. 1ST ARMY, April 30.—(Reuters) — Since the burgomeister of Leipzig committed suicide with his wife and daughter at a town hall death party 10 days ago a great wave of suicides has swept the Leipzig district. At least 100 people have taken or attempted to take their lives by shooting, hanging, poisoning or wrist-cutting during the last week. They have mostly been Nazi party officials.

Would Socialize Bank Of England

BRISTOL, Eng., April 30.—(CP) — Home Secretary Herbert Morrison urged Britons yesterday to throw overboard "the amiable, useless, part-time, old-school-tie, aristocratic or M.P. directors" of the nation's industries in the next general elections.

A labor member of prime minister Churchill's coalition government, Mr. Morrison outlined to a labor gathering the organization's tentative platform for the first national elections in Britain in 10 years. The program calls for socialization of the Bank of England, coal mines, utilities and inland transportation. Mr. Morrison maintained it would leave "full play for individual initiative, originality and creative skill."

"We have done it in war; let's show that we can do it in peace," he said.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 30—(AP)—Motors and other assorted peace-rated stocks pushed to eight-year highs in today's market although many leaders were unable to surmount light profit taking on the lengthy drive. The idea that victory in Europe was a matter of hours, and that post-war prosperity was better than an even bet for numerous companies, inspired the principal bidding.

Export Buying On Grain Market

WINNIPEG, April 30.—(CP)—Small export buying in Canadian wheat and coarse grains was reported today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Approximately 300,000 bushels of wheat were taken for relief purposes in Europe and 200,000 bushels of oats by the United Kingdom.

Most pitmen were on the sidelines in rye futures trading to await war developments and closing values were ¼ cent a bushel lower to ½ higher. May was quoted at $1.49⅛, July $1.45⅛ and October $1.28.

Values moved narrowly in early stages but firmed in sympathy with Chicago near the close.

Local Produce

BUTTER PRICES

No. 1, 34½; No. 2, 32½; No. 3, 30½.

CREAM PRICES

Prices for cream delivered to Edmonton creameries: Special grade, 45; No. 1, 44; No. 2, 38; off grade, 33.

All prices include government bonus of 10c to farmers.

EGG PRICES

Dealers now paying to country shippers: A large, 30; A medium, 28; A pullet, 21; grade B, 24; grade C, 18-19.

Wholesale to retail: A large, 37; A medium, 35; A pullet, 29; grade B, 31; grade C, 27.

Retail to consumers: A large, 44; A medium, 42; A pullet, 36; grade B, 38; grade C, 32.

A feature of this week's egg market report is that receipts are fractionally less than for the previous week. Inclement weather resulting in muddy roads may be the influencing factor as the peak week for the season is still expected to be the last week of April. Quality shows a further slight deterioration, but per cent. grade A continues satisfactory for the season of year. The movement of eggs through export channels totals 25 cars, 7 of which moved to seaboard for shell export, 6 were oil dipped and transferred to storage for fall export, 10 were directed to the local drying plant and 2 cars were directed to breaking from freezing. A large lot of A large rolled to Prince Rupert, B.C., and one car of grade C rolled to Saskatoon. Sales to retailers are reported as satisfactory.

POULTRY PRICES

The poultry market continues quiet. Receipts of fowl now very light. One small shipment of frozen chicken moved to Prince Rupert, and other sales were confined to local retail trade, demand from which is reported good. Paying prices to country shippers remain unchanged at live No. 1 fowl 5 lbs., 17c, No. 2 fowl 10c. Broilers, 2 to 3½ lbs. live weight continue to be guaranteed on basis of 30c per lb. Milkfed A, 28c per lb.; milkfed B, grade B 26c, grade C 22c, less 6c per head as a killing charge.

HATCHERY OUTLOOK

This week's summary is based on reports received from 20 hatcheries with a total egg setting capacity of 2,098,408. They report that 3,738,696 eggs were set since start of season, and chicks produced 1,936,747, with hatchability of 63.8 per cent. All hatcheries report that the month of April will produce the heaviest volume of chicks for any month since start of season, and that advanced bookings for the month of May are heavy to the 15th of the month with encouraging prospects for the latter half of the month. Movement of cockerel chicks has been very satisfactory the last few weeks, especially in the case of heavy breeds. New Hampshires lead in popularity of chicks produced, with Leghorns very much in second place.

Hatching capacity for 1945 has now been measured and is found to be 2,208,938, compared to 2,035,720 for 1944, which means an increase of 8.5 per cent. for the present season over last year.

Blood testing results for the 1944-5 season on ROP flocks are the best on record for this province, and of 15,102 birds tested the pullorum reaction was .0009 on the first tests and no second tests were necessary. Only one flock was over 1 per cent. reaction and this flock was 1.99.

Leftists Lead In Paris Vote

PARIS, April 30—(AP)—Communist candidates for municipal office in Paris held a commanding lead on the basis of nearly complete returns from yesterday's first election in France since the country fell to the Germans.

Elections returns from other French metropolitan centres indicated their voters, too, had supported candidates of the leftist parties in contests for municipal offices, the only ones at stake in today's voting.

City Business Man Remanded For Trial

Charged before Magistrate L. R. Jackson in city police court Monday with perjury, Michael Magus, city business man, was remanded for trial at the next sitting of supreme court.

The charge of perjury arose out of a statement made by Magus to the effect that on Sunday, April 1 he had not had any root beer in his refrigerator.

The youth to whom the accused admittedly sold some soft drinks told of taking three bottles of root beer from the store. The accused said that the former had asked for some 7-Up, and he believed this to be the drink the youth had taken from the refrigerator, himself.

Constables William Segrs and Henry Krocker conducted investigations in the case.

Claims War Workers Are Job Problem

The problems of rehabilitation and reconstruction which face Canada in the post-war period do not only involve finding jobs for returned servicemen but for thousands of war workers as well, Capt. J. Harper Prowse, army member of the Legislature, told members of the Kiwanis club when he addressed their luncheon meeting in the Macdonald hotel Monday.

He said it would be foolish to think the problem could be solved simply by finding employment for ex-servicemen. He said it is a deeply complex problem and one which the business leaders should consider carefully before evolving a plan for the solution.

Yanks 25 Miles From Davao City

MANILA, April 30—(AP)—Light United States naval units, appearing for the first time in Davao gulf, shelled Japanese shore installations at Davao Saturday as two infantry divisions drove toward the big Mindanao island port by road.

An airfield on the western shore of Davao Gulf at Padada, just south of Digos, was seized by troops of the 24th division and quickly was put into operation.

Infantrymen were within 25 road miles of Davao city by highway after a sweep across southern Mindanao island from their Moro Gulf beachhead.

Co-Operative Claims Present Tax Is Unfair

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—United Grain Growers' Ltd., in a brief submitted today to the royal commission on Co-Operatives, recommended changes in the present tax legislation applicable to Co-Operatives.

The company, described in the brief as a farmer-owned and controlled co-operative with a membership of some 35,000 prairie farmers, said it now was in an unfair position as a result of paying income and excess profits taxes from which other co-operatives were exempt.

PROPOSE REVISION

Proposals for revision in the tax legislation were that patronage dividends paid by co-operatives and dividends up to five per cent paid by co-operatives organized on a capital stock basis should be deductible expenses for income tax purposes.

"Our contention is that there should be no difference for taxation purposes between co-operatives organized on a share capital or on a loan basis," the company said.

"We submit that a co-operative is entitled to have reasonable dividends on share capital regarded as an expense in the same way as one organized on a loan capital basis is entitled to have interest on its loan capital so regarded."

TAKE OBJECTION

The company also took objection to the present provision which limits the percentage of business with non-members to 20 per cent. The limitation was considered too strict and if a limitation was to be continued it should be set at a higher figure.

United Grain Growers' Ltd. owns and operates 529 country elevators, mainly in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, as well as a terminal elevator at Port Arthur. It is also in the farm supply business, conducts an educational and cultural program, and has a publishing business as a wholly-owned subsidiary.

The company said throughout its 40 years' operation it had met privately-owned competition "on even terms."

HAVE FAITH

"It has never sought and does not now seek any preferential treatment for itself," the brief said. "It has faith in the co-operative way of business. It believes that co-operation is a vital and living force which under proper guidance can continue to exist and flourish without any special advantage over competitors."

"Continued tax discrimination will further impair the ability of the board of grain commissioners to exercise impartially its duties of regulation and the ability of the Canadian wheat board to make uniform arrangements with its agents."

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean
SPORTS EDITOR

OLD SOL appeared for a while yesterday and the thermometer zoomed over the 50 above mark. Bud Corcoran, manager of the Dodgers, promptly announced the opening practice for his team at Renfrew Park this evening. Bud adopted the "wait and see" attitude when queried as to prospects, but he admitted most of last season's club will be out again.

THE rules for that rassle royal listed on tonight's grappling card at the Empire sound rather intriguing to say the least.

They add up to something like this: The first man out is out—and he probably is the luckiest of the quintet; the next two out are in the running for second place; and the last two in are out—in the final. Presumably the winner gets a crown.

Ted Christy, the Hollywood movie mat-man, dropped in long enough last night to say hello and that he intended to pin John Katan's ears back this evening. Clarence Moher was with him. Later Clarence phoned and denied he was challenging the winner of tonight's Christy-Katan match.

Cool—or to be more correct, cold—weather has held up senior baseball workouts this year. Practices in 1944 began on April 24 and Dodgers held their initial tryout on April 27, according to Bill Harris' schedule.

The league opened on May 21 last season, and if that date is to be used as a guide, it would leave approximately three weeks for conditioning. Both Yanks and Signallers have been doing some work on their own fields. Arrows have not gotten under way seriously yet, but all clubs are expected to be in high gear this week.

HERE AND THERE . . .

ALF BLYTH and Ernie Wakefield are the two Edmonton five-pin bowlers who placed ninth with a score of 3343, in "B" division of the Vancouver tournament. And they along with Bill Carlson are Edmonton's contribution to the Calgary-Edmonton team competing under the name Cal-Eds.

Frank McCormick, Pittsburgh's heavy hitting first baseman who specializes on two-baggers, stole three bases—one of them home—yesterday. Frank had only seven during the entire season last year.

Maybe Frankie had been reading about Ernie Lombardi, slow-footed Giant beating out that bunt during Friday's game, also against St. Louis Cardinals.

Dizzy Trout, Detroit, Hank Borowy of New York and Russ Christopher of Philadelphia in the American league, along with Bill Voiselle of the Giants and Paul Derringer of the Cubs in the National, all have three straight wins now.

Gunder Haegg may have lost another race on Saturday, but he certainly gained a couple of laps on the rest of the early field as sport's biggest bust of the year. Excepting perhaps from the standpoint of romance—haven't heard much about that lately—the swift Swede's trip to America this time hasn't been much of a success. And Gunder's tie sales in his native Malmo are likely to experience a corresponding slump on his return home.

Two Technical Knockouts At Cromdale Boxing Show

Highlighted by a pair of technical knockouts by "Cubby" Shaw and Neil McEwan, another action filled boxing and wrestling show was staged by the Cromdale Community Junior League at the Cromdale Sports House on Saturday night. This was the windup of a two-day, 20-bout tourney.

"Cubby" Shaw, 101, registered his TKO over Gordon Misener, 102, in the third round after he had knocked his opponent down twice, and Neil McEwan, 140, posted his by stopping Eric Petrie, 132, in one minute and 30 seconds of the first session.

One of the best bouts of the night was the slugfest between Gerry Delane, 86 pounds and Bill Worton, 82. It was a lively match fight from the opening gong, but neither could wear the other down and the judges called it a draw.

Officials included: announcer, Art Evans; referee, Gerry Delane, who was also in charge of the tournament.

Following are Saturday night's results:

BOXING

Kenneth Munro, 71, beat Bill Quilley, 71.

Gerry Campbell, 92, beat Bob Lane, 90.

"Cubby" Shaw, 101, beat Gordon Misener, 102 (TKO).

Neil McEwan, 140, beat Eric Petrie, 132 (TKO).

Gerry Delane, 86 and Bill Worton, 82, fought to a draw.

Charlie Kinsman, 84, beat Ian McLeod, 88.

Don Booker, 140, beat Don Drummond, 148.

WRESTLING

Ken Munro, 71, beat Bill Quilley, 72, two straight falls.

"Cubby" Shaw, 101, beat Gerry Campbell, 102, two straight falls.

Billy McNally, 113, beat Osmond Barry, 122, two straight falls.

Wrestling Card Empire Tonight Has Three Events

Three events are scheduled for the wrestling show at the Empire Theatre tonight, with a rassle royal as the opener, followed by the Eddie Stone versus Bud Higgins match. The card will be topped off by the Ted Christy and John Katan affair. Starting time is 8:30 o'clock.

Nothing is incredible where wrestling is concerned and it now turns out there will be five men in the ring for the first event, instead of four as previously announced. It will be a strictly rassle royal business, the team match angle having been ruled out.

Leo Magirl has been named as the fifth man according to the latest communique, the others being Maurice DeBlieck, Emil Van Velzen, Steve Jossul and Alex Gerke. The first man pinned is out and the next two to be flattened apparently qualify for a shot at second place. The last two in the ring settle first place honors. It sounds interesting.

Pittsburgh Hands Cubs First Defeats; White Sox Stopped at 6 Straight

Both Chicago Ball Clubs Come to Grief

Elwin Roe Goes Route For Pirates

CHICAGO, April 30.—(AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday broke the Chicago Cubs' six game National League winning streak by taking both ends of a twin bill 6-2 and 5-4, before 36,637 fans at Wrigley Field. The Cubs beat the Pirates four straight last week.

The Pirates, taking advantage of an error by pitcher Dee Chipman, sewed up the first game with a four-run burst in the fourth inning, and then put together three hits and a walk for three runs in the sixth inning for their second victory.

Elwin (Preacher) Roe spaced five Chicago hits in the first game and was robbed of a shutout when Tommy O'Brien dropped Phil Cavaretta's fly to right field in the eighth inning to let in both runs.

Nick Strincevich was given credit for the second victory, but had to be relieved in the seventh.

MORT COOPER WINS FIRST

CINCINNATI, April 30.—(AP)—Morton Cooper made his first start of the season yesterday and got credit for winning as St. Louis Cards beat Cincinnati Reds 8-3 in the nightcap of a National League doubleheader after Max Lanier defeated Cincinnati in the opener, 2-1. Cooper allowed but one hit up to the seventh inning when he was lefted as the Reds got to him for three straight singles.

Bucky Walters, still trying for his first victory, was the loser in the second game and in the eight innings he pitched, he allowed seven hits and four runs.

Frank McCormick, Cincinnati first baseman who is better known for his hitting than fleetness afoot, stole three bases, including home, in the second game.

WALKER'S HOMER WINS GAME

BROOKLYN, April 30.—(AP)—Dixie Walker's home run with two on in the eighth inning enabled Brooklyn Dodgers to come from behind and defeat New York Giants 4-3 before 25,036 National League fans yesterday.

The wallop gave the Dodgers the series, two games to one. Dixie connected off Andy (Swede) Hansen after Goodie Rosen singled and Augie Galan drew a pass. Ace Adams then replaced Hansen and prevented further scoring but the damage had been done.

BRAVES DIVIDE WITH PHILS

BOSTON, April 30.—(AP)—With the only run of the game being forced across the plate when Dick Barrett issued a base on balls with the bases filled, the Braves defeated Philadelphia Phils 1-0 yesterday in the second game of a National League doubleheader. The Phils won the first game 5-3.

The victory in the after piece was Javery's first of the season. In the first game, during which the Phils took advantage of their opportunities, flutterball Jim Tobin issued only two passes but both were disastrous.

Semi-Final Round Reached In North Soccer Playoffs

By ALLAN NICKELSON

LONDON, April 30.—(CP Cable)—Wolverhampton Wanderers will face Bolton in one semi-final match of the League North football cup while Manchester United clash with Chesterfield in the other, it was decided by the draw Saturday immediately after these four teams had won their quarter-final series.

First games in the home-and-home, total-goal series will be played at Manchester and Wolverhampton next Saturday with the return matches in Chesterfield and Bolton the following Saturday, May 12.

The quarter-finals Saturday attracted aggregate crowds of 142,000 and the biggest surprise came at Chesterfield where the home team edged the cup favorites, Liverpool, 1-0 and won the round by that score. The teams played a scoreless draw in the first game of the total-goal series in Liverpool last week and Chesterfield, on the basis of a surprisingly strong defence, may emerge as dark-horse cup winners.

The greatest crowd of the quarter-finals was at Newcastle where 45,000 saw the home team whip Bolton 4-2 but lose the round by an aggregate score of 5-4 on the basis of a 3-0 Bolton victory last week. The teams tied 4-4 on the round at the end of regular time and the winning goal was scored by Lofty Lofthouse of Bolton after 10 minutes' extra time.

Newcastle appeared certain winners early in the match when Bill Stubbings scored three goals in the first 27 minutes to tie up the round. Stubbings is Newcastle's leading goal scorer and Saturday was his first appearance in nearly a month because of injuries.

A crowd of 40,000 at Cardiff where the home team beat Wolverhampton 2-1 but dropped from the race on the basis of a 3-0 defeat last week which gave the Wanderers the round 4-2. Manchester United beat Doncaster 3-1 and took the round 5-2.

Muncrief, Kramer Win For Browns

ST. LOUIS, April 30.—(AP)—Chicago White Sox hopes of emulating the early American League season winning streak of the 1944 St. Louis Browns were ended yesterday at Sportsman's Park as the Browns handed them a double defeat, 3-2 and 10-4. The Sox were unbeaten in five starts.

Bob Muncrief, now a full-time defence worker, and Jack Kramer were the winning pitchers and Thornton Lee and Ed Lopat the losers.

The Browns came from behind to win the first contest, climaxed in the home half of the ninth by a triple by catcher Frank Mancuso followed by a long fly from pinch hitter Gene Moore that sent home the winning run.

In the second contest the Browns pounded four Chicago hurlers for 13 hits including a two-run triple by Don Gutteridge and doubles by Mark Christman, Stephens and Mancuso.

TROUT WINS OWN GAME

CLEVELAND, April 30.—(AP)—Pitching four-hit ball, Paul (Dizzy) Trout homered in the sixth inning to win his own ball game as the Detroit Tigers gained a split in an American League doubleheader with Cleveland Indians 4-0 in each game.

The tribe won the first game behind the five-hit hurling of Steve Gromek. It was both Cleveland's and Gromek's second victory, the first being won at Detroit.

Trout permitted but one extra base blow, a double by Ed Carnett who replaced Roy Cullenbine in the Tribe's right field.

RED SOX COP TWIN BILL

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—(AP)—Boston Red Sox won both ends of an American League twin bill yesterday from Philadelphia Athletics, capturing a 13-inning nightcap 6-3 and taking the opener 2-0.

Rookie Dave Ferriss pitched his first major league game in the opener before 23,828 Shibe Park fans. He blanked the Mackmen 2-0, scatteding five safe blows, and clubbed three hits in as many trips to the plate.

Bobo Newsom was charged with the defeat. Jesse Flores had the nightcap sewed up 3-1 with two out in the ninth when Indian Bob Johnson injected some life in the Bosox attack, blasting a home run with one aboard to knot the count.

A double, two singles and a long fly by Johnson added three to the Bosox score in the 13th.

SENATORS, YANKEES SPLIT

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—Roger Wolff pitched Washington to an even break yesterday as he limited New York Yankees to four hits to give the Senators a 2-1 American League victory in the second game of a twin-bill before about 30,000 fans. The Yankees walloped the Nats in the opener 13-4.

George Myatt's force out of George Case in the opening round of the nightcap, his steal, Donald's wild pitch and a wild throw by Oscar Grimes on George Binks produced the Senators' first run. A triple by Myatt and Joe Kuhel's single accounted for the winning tally in the sixth.

Atley Donald tapped out his first major league homer in the third for the Yankee's lone run.

Russ Derry featured Hank Borowy's third win in the opener as he pounded out two homers, one with bases full.

Washington ...... 400 000 000—4 7 0
New York ...... 005 011 51x—13 11 3

City Intermediate Fastball League Discusses Park

A meeting of the Edmonton Intermediate Fastball League was held yesterday at the Corona with officials of the Edmonton and District Fastball Association in attendance. A delegation representing the senior, intermediate and junior loops was chosen to appear before the City Recreation Commission on Thursday night with the suggestion of constructing a three diamond stadium, to be equipped with public address system and flood lights.

A suggestion was made that the present Kingsway Park be extended to include diamonds for intermediate and junior leagues or another site close to the city centre be chosen for the proposed stadium.

Members of the delegation chosen included: Art Skitch and Paul Soderberg, president and secretary respectively of the Edmonton and District Fastball Association, and Pete Smith and Joe Milne, president and secretary of the Edmonton Intermediate Fastball League.

Opening games of the intermediate loop were set for May 16 at the Exhibition Grounds diamond starting at 7 o'clock. Teams entered in the league are: C. Woodward Ltd.; Burns; Street Railway; Swifts; Gainers Ltd.; and HMCS Nonsuch.

Haegg Fails Win In Final Effort American Tour

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—(AP)—Gunder Haegg Saturday ran the fastest mile of his 1945 American tour but still took a beating in his farewell appearance while a trio of University of Michigan relay teams provided the day's biggest thrills for the 30,000 fans who turned out for the 51st annual Penn relay carnival.

Michigan, with Ross and Bob Hume setting the pace, won two major relay titles in addition to the pair captured Friday, and pushed Army's speedy mile quartet to the best performance of the meet in the day's final event.

Haegg, who sailed for Sweden Saturday night aboard a Portuguese freighter, wound up his unsuccessful tour by finishing fourth in a special handicap mile run, his only outdoor race.

He was timed in 4:12.7 from scratch, nearly two seconds faster than his best indoor time, but West Point's James W. Howe ran 4:08.5 off the 140-yard handicap mark and breasted the tape some 20 yards ahead of the Swedish swiftie. Phil Stilwell, schoolboy runner from Lower Camden, N.J., regional high, and Cadet John C. Fischer of Army also led Haegg home. Stilwell had a 90-yard handicap and Fischer 140-yards.

Haegg was unable to win any of the track events in which he completed this tour.

Today's Sport Parade

By Leo H. Petersen

NEW YORK, April 30.—(BUP)—These are trying days for Frankie Frisch. His Pittsburgh Pirates and his arthritis must be driving him almost as daffy as the Gas House gang did in the old days.

For his Pirates, tagged as one of the teams to beat in the 1945 pennant race, can't get going. They've won only four of 11 games so far and are down next to the National League cellar.

That's no way for a team eyeing a championship to be playing ball and it hardly is the way to treat a man who already has had enough trouble this spring. Arthritis kept him confined to his New Rochelle, N.Y., home when the Pirates went through their spring training drills.

As severe as it was, the arthritis didn't bother the old Fordham Flash nearly as much as the current Pirates are upsetting him now. For if there is one thing in the world Frisch hates, it's losing ball games.

WAS POPULAR WITH FANS

THERE'S the matter of Pittsburgh fans to be considered, too. Frankie has been popular there, but the happening of last Sunday may indicate a change in their attitude. When his team was dropping the second game of a double-header to the Chicago Cubs after having lost the first game, the crowd of 27,000 began showering cushions around the Pirate dugout. It's been a long time since a demonstration like that has been seen around Pittsburgh.

But Frisch is too tough to let a little thing like that get him down. He's been in tougher spots, and they never have gotten him down. His only record of failure has been arguing with the umpires, but Frisch still is in there trying on that score, although no manager ever has won out in that particular endeavor.

He faced his first tough spot when he was playing second base for the New York Giants of the late John J. McGraw. Frisch was McGraw's boy and to this day McGraw remains Frisch's ideal. But there came a day at the Polo Grounds when Frisch, playing with two bad knees, failed to come up with a grounder hit by Tommy Thevenow of the St. Louis Cardinals and it cost the ball game.

TRADED TO CARDNIALS

McGRAW, like Frisch a tough loser, stormed into the club house and began giving his star second baseman a tongue lashing. Frisch was in no mood for it and he talked back. He found himself traded to the Cardinals and for two years he and McGraw did not speak. Their wives finally brought them together.

His stay in St. Louis was anything but smooth. Before long he took over the Cards in the days of the Dean brothers, Leo Durocher, Pepper Martin, Joe Medwick and the other members of the Gas House gang. They were trying days for the players were temperamental and Frisch had his hands full handling them. But he fined and suspended without hesitation and kept the ball club going and winning pennants.

He was fired late in the 1938 season, like so many other Cardinal managers. He turned to radio for a while, but baseball still was in his blood and when he was offered the managership at Pittsburgh he jumped at the chance.

So although the Pirates are wallowing in the depths of the National League, it's far too early to sell them short. Frisch has licked tougher jobs and the chances are he will whip this one, too.

Cote Is Defeated In English Debut

LONDON, April 30.—(CP Cable)—Sgt. Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., twice winner of the Boston Marathon, bowed to two Britons here Saturday in the 20-mile Finchley Harriers road race.

Sgt. Cote, who arrived overseas late this past winter and since then trained hard for his English debut, was handicapped by unfavorable weather and a strange caurse. The winner was the veteran Tom Richards who scored his fifth victory in Britain's top stamina grind while S. Jones was second.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

By FRED KERNER

TORONTO, April 30.—(CP)—We don't know what the American gal fastball players are going to say to this, but we're sure the Canadian ladies are going to lap it up. In a recent interview with Ruth Wilson of Vancouver, Max Carey, who's now the headman of the Chicago glamorous and gorgeous girls' softball league, said that Canadian femme softball players were better than the American girls.

That is really quite a compliment coming from Max, who really knows baseball. It seems that the former big league ball hustler has been carrying on the good neighbor policy with a statement like that—or maybe he really means it.

We note with interest that Maximilian did not state any reasons or cite any examples. But regardless that is the kind of compliment it is hard to overlook. As long as it doesn't go to the gals' respective heads. It won't do any harm.

The American ladies loop is doing things up big for Canadian gals with announcement that an outstanding player will be chosen from each province for an all-expense trip to the states at the end of the season. Even if nothing comes of it in the way of a contract for the gals—the trip will be something most of them will remember for a long time.

TANTALIZING TAIK

For the sceptics who raise their eyebrows every time the name of Johnny Greco enters the conversation, the following excerpt from a fight magazine is quoted.

Written by Maurie Waxman—Bobby Ruffin's manager—the article predicts that young Greco will get a title shot against Freddie Cochrane.

"With Robinson back in the army. . . . The hard-hitting Canadian is now the best box-office attraction among the welters and most likely opponent of all for welter king Freddie "Red" Cochrane," wrote Waxman.

The last three Greco fights with Ruffin netted close to a quarter of a million dollars, which is an interesting figure to cast one's eyes at for any fight manager. So, all knocks to the contrary, it may be Greco for the title after all.

Beg pardon—Mike (Kingston Whig-Standard) Rodden says that Duke Keats turned pro when he was 19 and not 16 as we previously reported.

Sports . . . . Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.—(AP)—Within a few minutes after he won the high hurdles "special" at last Friday's Penn relays, Haakon Lidman was perched in the fourth row of the press box, pounding out a story for his newspaper in Sweden . . . Haakon probably set a record of some sort in wrapping a towel around his neck, hauling on a sweat suit and getting to work, though envious rivals who write only English claim he was a shade faster over the barriers than over the keys.

Ray (Sandlot) Dumont reports that former sports editor Charles (Chief) Love of the Wichita, Kan., Eagle has sent a pair of wooden shoes from Holland to Ray's national baseball congress to be awarded to the first player to hit a home run in the national sandlot tournament next August . . . Shouldn't they go to the first player to be tossed out by a mile on an attempted steal, or would that belong to the wooden head dept.?

The Red's Warren Giles lost a cash customer when Sen. A. B. (Happy) Chandler was named baseball commissioner. Chandler used to see at least one game a week in Cincinnati and always paid his own way . . . The Pennsylvania senate has just passed a bill which will permit Sunday hockey, ice skating, etc., under local option. Sunday bowling is to be considered next.

Victory Loan Meets Success In Rural Areas

Fifteen of Northern Alberta's rural divisions in the Eighth Victory Loan have passed the 50 per cent mark toward their objectives, while 21 more had achieved the 33 per cent mark of their allocated quota at the end of the first week of the three weeks campaign.

"This is a wonderful showing by rural division," a headquarters official stated Monday. "The roads throughout the province are in bad shape owing to rain and showers of recent days, and travel is extremely difficult."

Two of the rural units have gone over the top. They are Bentley with 175 per cent of its quota, and Mercoal with 111 per cent. Westlock-Clyde has now reached 81 per cent of its objective, and Luscar and Holden-Bruce are tied for fourth place with 78 per cent of quota achieved.

BRISK BUSINESS

Sales in rural northern Alberta on Saturday totalled $514,600 from 1,750 subscribers to bring the cumulative total for the first week of the campaign to $3,304,500, for 40.2 per cent of the $8,210,000 quota set for the territory. The total unmber of subscribers during the week was 8,951.

In the Seventh Victory loan, at the end of the first week of that campaign, total sales amounted to $2,382,150 from 7,960 subscribers, for 33.7 per cent of the quota.

The following is a tabulation of the percentage of quotas achieved by the different rural units:

Atrocity Camps Worse Than Front

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—Julius Ochs Adler, general manager of the New York Times, who is one of the newspaper executive surveying German atrocity camps, said Saturday in a dispatch to the Times from Buchenwald, "What I have seen here is worse than any battlefield." "The story of Buchenwald has been told, but it cannot be told too often to the people of the United States," Mr. Adler declared. "The skinny corpses of Buchenwald should remind us of what the loss of human freedom entails."

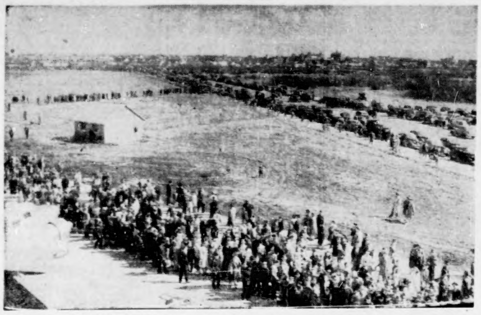
Crerar and Vanier Mentioned For Post

LONDON, April 30.—(CP)—The Evening News said in a front-page story today that Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, commander of the 1st Canadian Army, and Maj.-Gen. Georges P. Vanier, Canadian ambassador to France, were "among the names mentioned" as possibilities to succeed Lord Athlone as governor-general of Canada.



CITIZENS EXAMINE TOOLS OF WAR—Shown above is a small portion of the estimated crowd of 40,000 Edmonton and district residents who gathered Sunday afternoon to see the display in aid of the Eighth Victory Loan of modern military aircraft at the North West Air Command base. The crowds filed past a B-29 Super-Fortress, a B-24 Liberator bomber, a P-38 Lightning, P-47 Thunderbolt fighter, a DC-3 transport, the famous Canso flying boat and a Norseman passenger-freighter. Citizens who attempted to take snapshots of the display were dissuaded by service police who confiscated cameras. Members of the Edmonton squadron, Air Cadets of Canada, were on hand to answer questions. The planes were shown by courtesy of Brig.-Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, commanding general, Alaskan Division, ATC, USAAF, while access to RCAF grounds was by permission of Air Vice-Marshal T. A. Lawrence, air officer commanding North West Service Command.

In Concentration Camp

Nazi Civilians Shown Horrors

By ELEANOR PACKARD

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

A CONCENTRATION CAMP, NEAR LANDSBERG, Germany, April 29.—(Delayed)—(BUP)—German civilians were brought here today to look at the handiwork of the Nazis—the emaciated bodies of political prisoners killed by starvation.

Some 400 to 500 bodies, most of them Jewish males, have been discovered in this camp, and others are being uncovered every hour. They had been inmates of the sick section, useless as slave laborers, and the Nazis decided they were not worth wasting food on.

A few had on the striped trousers of political prisoners, but most were naked. Their gaunt skeleton frameworks looked more like gruesome waxworks from a horror museum than human beings.

In a nearby section are between 500 and 600 more prisoners, still alive but most feeble. About 4,000 others, slightly stronger, were removed further behind the German lines a few days ago.

New Air Schedule Announced Here

As the result of a new summer schedule operative by Western Air Lines on May 1 next, Edmonton air travellers can leave here at 8:30 a.m. and arrive in Los Angeles at 10:34 p.m. of the same day.

Announcement of the new, speeded-up schedule, which gives Edmontonians the fastest service to date between here and Los Angeles, was made Monday by Lawrence Nichols, district traffic manager for Western Air Lines here.

Those leaving Edmonton at 8:30 a.m. will reach Great Falls at 2:44 p.m., Salt Lake City at 6:58 and Los Angeles at 10:34. Edmonton passengers for Denver will reach that city at 9:20 p.m.

Western Air Lines recently completed its 19th year of operation, carrying over 150,000 passengers during the past 12 months over its 4,196-mile network from Canada to Mexico.

The airline will soon enter its fourth year of operation in the Alaskan Division, having flown over 27,213 hours and completed over 2,589 single trips, with a perfect safety record, in flying vital war cargo to the northwest war front.

Farmer in Hospital After Collision

Leslie Rogers, Hercules district resident, injured in a collision between two autos late Friday night about 10 miles east of the city limits on the Cooking Lake trail, had not regained consciousness Monday, according to Misericordia hospital authorities, to which institution the injured man had been taken.

Three other men injured in the crash were admitted to University hospital for medical attention. They were H. Schacht and John Poschuk of Hercules, and E. Wendt of Ardrossan.

Churchill, Stalin Discuss "Surrender"

NEW YORK, April 30.—The British Broadcasting Company said last night Marshal Stalin had sent prime minister Churchill a note dealing with the Himmler offer of unconditional surrender to Great Britain and the United States.

The broadcast, monitored by the National Broadcasting Company, gave no hint of the contents of the letter.

Former Governor, Hon. A. P. McNab, Is Dead at Regina

REGINA, April 30.—(CP)—Hon. Archibald P. McNab, 81, a short, jovial pioneer who served as lieutenant-governor of Saskatchewan for nine years, died early Sunday in a Regina hospital.

Mr. McNab had been in failing health for about a year and relinquished the office of lieutenant-governor on Feb. 28.

He was host to the King and Queen at a Government House dinner in 1939 and it was his pleasure that governors-general and other notables called him "Archie" as did thousands of Saskatchewan residents.

America's Card Authority

Today's hand came to me from Mr. D. Cameron Montgomery, Jr., a medical student at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.

In his letter he stated that this bid of four no trump was intended as a gigantic take-out double. Well, I am afraid that I do not quite agree with that bid. Nevertheless, his partner did bid and they got into a pretty good contract.

I think East handled the play of the hand well. He played low to the opening lead, letting North win with the ten spot. If North returns a diamond and gives South a ruff, the contract is made.

But North returned a heart, which the declarer won with the king, then ruffed a small spade. The ace of hearts was cashed and a small heart led.

Here North made a serious mistake. He ruffed in with his nine of clubs. Of course the declarer overruffed with the queen, ruffed his other spade and then cashed the ace of clubs. He discarded his losing diamond on the queen of hearts.

North might have defeated the contract had he kept that nine of clubs to ruff the queen of hearts with.

heart ailment. A captured German general said the portly marshal probably was executed. A Moscow report broached the possibility that Goering had fled to parts unknown, carrying away $20,000,000 in loot.

Gestapo Chief Himmler: His captured brother-in-law said that as late as April 10 Himmler was in the Hartz mountains but escaped the advancing Americans; he was reported to have made a peace offer to Britain and the United States, excluding Russia.

Some time ago one report, in all probability in error, pictured Himmler as killed attempting to escape Berlin. The only clue mentioned was a charred body in a blasted motor vehicle.

REPORT ON GOEBBELS

Propaganda Minister Goebbels: The loud and limping mouthpiece of Nazism has been reported by a German-controlled source to have fled northward out of Berlin, but other German reports have said he was with Hitler in Berlin. He may already be in the Bavarian redoubt.

Field Marshal Kesselring: The latest clue to the whereabouts of the German commander in the south came from the Munich radio during what apparently was a short-lived revolt in that birthplace of Nazism. The radio broadcast a plea to the Allies to bomb Pullach, six miles south of Munich, where it said Kesselring had established headquarters.

Benito Mussolini and Roberto Farinacci, the secretary of the Italian Fascist party, have been executed by the Italians.

Franz von Papen: The "Gray Fox" of Nazi diplomacy is a captive of the Americans as is Lt.-Gen., Kurt Dittmar, the mouthpiece of the German high command.

Vote Official Is Back in Edmonton

After spending almost four months in the Italian war area with members of the Canadian Army, David Duncan, Edmonton, returning officer in the recent election of soldier-members to the Alberta Legislature, returned to the city early Monday. Mr. Duncan had been taken ill in Italy near the end of his duties and was hospitalized for several weeks in that country and England.

Mr. Duncan said he had been greatly impressed with the esprit de corps he noticed amongst officers and men in the Mediterranean theatre. Ever since the last war, he said, "I have had the greatest respect and admiration for the Canadian fighting men. Since seeing our men in Italy, my feelings have become stronger than ever".

Mr. Duncan declared that the Canadians in Italy deserve every credit for their work in taking that country. The territory over which they had operated was most difficult, he said.

He recalled seeing one military road that rose 4,000 feet above sea level, where vehicles passed each other with a bare 14 inches clearance. "One wrong move would have sent the vehicles crashing to the ground a thousand feet below," he said.

In his work as returning officer, Mr. Duncan said he had received the greatest support and co-operation from all ranks.

He paid tribute to the care he received from medical officers in Italy and England.

Russia Will Not Enslave Germans

By HENRY SHAPIRO

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MOSCOW, April 30.—(BUP)—The Red Army has posted notices in Berlin denying that Russia intends either to destroy or enslave the German people, a dispatch to the newspaper Pravda said today. "We have not and cannot have such idiotic aims," the notices were quoted as saying. Pravda said Soviet military commandants already have taken over administration of the occupied districts of Greater Berlin.

City Stands at 41.7% Quota In Loan Drive

had purchased bonds totalling $16,379,050, an increase of about 5,000 applications and $3,350,000 as compared with the same period of the last loan.

Snow again blanketed Alberta from the Peace River to the United States border on Saturday, throwing country roads into quagmires and slowing up canvassing. In face of the transportation difficulty the showing of the rural areas is remarkable and indicates that the quotas set will be materially exceeded.

The City of Lethbridge attained its $1,500,000 objective Saturday morning and had started work on a self-imposed objective. Lethbridge is believed to be the first city of any size to go over the top before the end of the first week of the loan.

SERVICES DOING WELL

Members of the armed forces in Alberta had contributed $2,492,300 with 9,914 of the personnel participating. In the Seventh loan the total subscribed at the end of the first week was $2,642,100, with 12,897 subscribers. Since the last loan a considerable reduction in the numbers of military personnel in the province has taken place.

McGavin Limited, and McGavin's Bakeries Limited, with branches in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Regina, Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Victoria and Brandon, subscribed $80,000 under the special names section of the loan.

George Keltie, R. L. Sutherland, Gordon Coulman and I. V. Hall were the leading Edmonton salesmen on Saturday.

Pennies dropped into a milk bottle at the end of each day accumulated at such a rate that Mrs. L. Gable, 11115 85 avenue, was able to purchase a $50 bond with her savings, and have some left over for the next loan.

MIXED CALL

A city canvasser, who is also a furniture appraiser, mixed an official call as a Victory Loan canvasser and a little job appraising when he called at the home of FO. S. C. T. Clarke. The RCAF officer had been transferred to Rivers, Man., and was preparing to sell his furniture when the canvasser called. An appraisal was made by the canvasser, the furniture was sold the same night, and the total proceeds of the sale was turned into Victory bonds. Incidentally the amount obtained at the sale was in excess of that which the airman valued his property.

Subscriptions by military personnel in Military District No. 13, totalled $778,650 at the end of the first week of the campaign. This is 102.4 per cent of the quota, while the participation of personnel only registered 65 per cent.

Eight of the 12 units have exceeded their quotas, while one has passed the 90 per cent mark, two have exceeded the 60 per cent, the Experimental Station, Suffield, is trailing with only 45.7 per cent of quota achieved.

FINE RECORD

Sqdn. Ldr. Ranald D. White, organizer for the North West Air Command, announced Monday that all but one unit of the command had exceeded their quota. The objective for the entire command is $145,000, but this had been passed earlier in the week, and at the close of business Saturday the total subscribed was $162,300, or $17,300 in excess of the original quota.

In conjunction with the ceremonies at the Victory Tower, 101 street and Jasper avenue, at noon each day during the second week of the loan, the RCAF band from No. 3 Service Flying Training School, Calgary, will participate in the parades, and will also take part in the official visit of His Excellency the Earl of Athlone and Princess Alice to the command on Thursday.

The Edmonton airwoman was married overseas.

Others returning are: LAW. M. B. Wills, Provost, and LAW. M. Bilton, Wetaskiwin.

It is understood that the practice of Mr. Justice O'Connor will be taken over by the law firm of Smith, Parlee, Clement and Whittaker.

Mr. Justice O'Connor was recently appointed puisne judge of the Exchequer Court of Canada, and will be sworn in as judge of that court in the near future.

German Forces Smashed in Italy Declares Clark which the British 8th Army was driving only 58 miles away. The Americans took Alessandria in northwest Italy and the British took Shiaggia in the northeast on the Adriatic Sea.

The Allies had come to the trail's end in the push up the Italian boot. It began at the Regio Calabria toe of the boot when United Kingdom and Canadian troops stormed across the straits of Messina from Sicily, and from the bloody beaches of Salerno where the Americans landed to secure the vital port of Naples.

From a command post in the field where he was with the 15th Army group, Clark issued the following special statement:

"Troops of the 15th Army group have so smashed the German armies in Italy that they have been virtually eliminated as a military force.

"This destruction has all been accomplished in the offensive which is now 22 days old for the Eighth Army and 15 days old for the major part of the Fifth Army.

"Twenty-five German divisions, some of the best in Germany, have been torn to pieces and can no longer effectively resist our armies.

TAKE GREAT BOOTY

"Thousands of vehicles, tremendous quantities of arms and equipment, and over 120,000 prisoners have been captured and many more are being corraled.

"The military power of Germany in Italy has practically ceased, even though scattered fighting may continue as the remnants of the German armies are mopping up."

In capturing Venice the British Eighth Army had pushed within 58 miles of a junction with Yugoslav forces reported fighting in Trieste.

As New Zealand troops under Lt. Gen. Sir Richard McCreery reached the Piave river, 17 miles northeast of Venice, radio Belgrade reported Marshal Tito's forces had entered Trieste.

In northwest Italy, Fifth Army forces raced northward 40 miles from Genoa to capture Alessandria, halfway along the highway from Genoa to Turin.

That put them within 78 miles of the French frontier, where French forces had crossed into Italy.

SEEK SURRENDER

Negotiations continued for the surrender of the Italian Ligurian army of captured Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, an estimated five divisions numbering perhaps 50,000 troops.

In historic, canal-laced Venice the Eighth Army joined hands with Italian Partisans and completed the mopping-up of the city. Eighth Army units already were 17 miles beyond Venice at points within 70 miles of both the Yugoslav and Austrian borders.

The Allied bag of prisoners had soared to the 100,000 mark and more were pouring into the cages.

U.S. Navy Launches USS F. D. Roosevelt

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—As aircraft droned overhead the UUS Franklin D. Roosevelt, 45,000-ton super-carrier, was launched yesterday in colorful but solemn ceremonies.

Navy Secretary Forrestal called for peacetime upkeep of United States military power as he dedicated the huge ship to the aims of the late president—win the war and keep the peace.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, dressed in mourning, attended the New York navy yard launching and in a brief talk said: "I know that my husband would have felt very keenly and appreciated the thought of having this super-carrier given his name."

Dr. Hunter Named To Contest Riding

Dr. Mary Hunter accepted nomination as Labor-Progressive candidate for West Edmonton in the forthcoming federal election at a meeting Friday night of representatives of party clubs in the Corona [illegible].

In recommending Dr. Hunter as the [illegible] candidate, Mrs. Margaret Mills Haling, city organizer for the Labor-Progressive group, said she is a candidate with influence in Edmonton, particularly in the [illegible] field. She is a member of the Royal Alexandra hospital board [illegible] blood donor work, and well known in the city.

In accepting the nomination Dr. Hunter said she had for many years been interested in remedying "social injustices of the economic system in Canada".

Candidate Scores Opposing Parties

Labor-Progressive candidate in the Calgary West Dominion constituency, Dr. A. K. Mackenzie, ex-CCF affiliate who resigned following a disagreement with party officials, Sunday afternoon demanded that Labor be given a partnership in government, when he addressed a Labor-Progressive party meeting in the Empire theatre. The speaker advocated a union of all progressive forces opposed to those of reaction.

He declared his party stood behind the Big Three's decisions at Teheran and Yalta and maintained that Social Credit leaders were opposed to the San Francisco conference. He opined that Progressive-Conservatives were reverting to "old British imperialism of the enough of those elements.

The CCF party, he said, was content to serve as an opposition for five years before taking an active part in Canada's future. And the Liberals, while being commended for their progressive elements, were lamented by the speaker because there were not enough of thes elements.

Other speakers Sunday included Dr. Mary Hunter, Edmonton West Labor-Progressive Candidate and James MacPherson, provincial Labor-Progressive leader.

Brief Celebration As Peace Rumored

Edmonton, too, was caught in the throes of a premature V-E Day celebration briefly Saturday night, although President Truman's denial of the rumor came before anythnig like an organized celebration really got underway.

One large department store would have "scooped" all opposition had the rumor been true, because its front windows were gaily decorated with banners and flags, bearing such elated assertions as:

"Hurrah! the war is over!" and more seriously.

"Thank God we have won the war! Let us now win the peace!"

Thousands of Edmontonians remained in their homes all through Saturday, cancelling theatres, dances and other engagements in order to be sure they did not miss final confirmation of the surrender rumors, if it came.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION:

What are your personal plans for observing V-E Day?

THE ANSWERS:

MARIE WHITE, stenographer: I haven't made any particular plans and I guess I'll just continue about the same as usual. It will be a wonderful feeling to know that the war is over in at least one theatre but we still have a long way to go and it's hard to experience any particular jubilation when you know people are still suffering from the tragedies of war.

* * *

JOHN HAMILTON, driver: I'll thank God that it's finished in Europe and pray the whole thing will soon be ended. It will be wonderful to know that our boys are out of it at least for a little while and that some of them will be coming home for good.

* * *

HARRY THOMPSON, electrician: I think I'll celebrate by going to one of the church services or whatever is held that day. It's kind of nice to be part of a crowd at a time like that. My boy won't be coming back but I can be happy for those people who will see their loved ones again and I'll be glad to know that what he fought for has been achieved.

"Mystery Man" Gives $200 For Children

Another anonymous benefactor from Calgary has given the provincial child welfare department $200, it has been announced by Deputy Provincial Treasurer J. F. Percival.

This brings donations from the same man to $1,000 in the past three years.

Treasury department officials say they haven't "the slightest idea" who the anonymous benefactor is.

Hunting for Second Wife Is Hard Task

Warm-Hearted Women Hanker to Attempt Stepmothering; Many a Young Girl Will Not Throw Her Life Away by Thus Tying Herself Down

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a man in my thirties. My wife died four years ago, leaving me with three small children. I have been trying to find a girl who would marry me and be a good mother and companion for [illegible] find out about my children they give me the cold shoulder and have [illegible]

I make only a modest income, so all that I can offer a woman is my heart, and that doesn't seem to be enough. I am losing hope, but I pray that some day I will be able to find a girl who will love me enough to take me, children and all, and make them the good home they deserve.

[illegible] partaking of anything of that nature.

But artificially acidified milks are a very splendid food whether these be commercial buttermilks or lactic acid milks. They have several marked advantages. Even if not kept well iced they do not spoil as rapidly as sweet milks. They are extremely useful when the baby has diarrhea. They are easier to digest and therefore valuable for the baby who has a hard time taking milk of any kind. They can be fed without dilution which is a great advantage when the baby has a small capacity for food.

The acid added to milk divides the curd which is—in cows milk—the element so often difficult for baby's own digestive acids to penetrate.

To sum up: the baby of delicate digestion having a hard time to manage sweet milk formulas; the baby vomits profusely when given an adequate-sized, diluted formula; the baby who won't take, at any time, as much milk as he should have for good nutrition; and the baby with diarrhea might all profit by being given a good lactic acid milk.

[illegible] milk is used for [illegible]. The milk must be very cold. If necessary to boil it first it should be cooled in a pan of ice water. Then the acid (U.S.P. lactic acid 85 per cent) is added drop by drop to the milk stirring constantly until it is all used up. Toward the end of the process the milk will begin to thicken and curdle until it should look like ordinary buttermilk. If the curds are thick and lumpy or the milk separates into curd and whey too much acid has been used, or the milk has not been cold or the acid has been added too hastily.

The amount of acid may also be added to the corn sirup, or malt sugar and water necessary to dissolve them, and then added to the milk.

Once acidified the milk is divided into the nursing bottles and kept on ice until ready to feed. At this time it should be warmed sufficient to take off the icy chill but not too hot or it might separate. When lactic acid milk is used the hole in the bottle nipple must be enlarged (with a red-hot needle) in order to accommodate this thicker milk.

Our leaflet, "Milk Formulas and Early Feeding" contains information on lactic acid formulas. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

SOME FACTS OF INTEREST TO THE PEOPLE OF CANADA

DURING the past year, the cash registers in Zeller's Stores rang up a total of over $10,800,000. Believing that our customers will be interested in learning where their money goes, we are outlining a few highlights from the Company's latest Annual Report. A copy of the report, as submitted to Shareholders, which gives more complete details of the Company's operations and policies, will be sent free on request.

Zeller's Limited is a Canadian Company, maintaining 27 retail stores in 26 cities across Canada. The Company operates in Canada only, and is not controlled by, or affilited with, any other organization.

$698,713 RENT, LIGHT, ETC.

All of the Zeller stores [illegible] in keeping up property.

$1,506,736 REMUNERATION TO STAFF

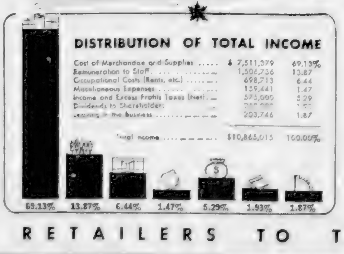
The hundreds of employees who served you at Zeller's during the past year, received a total remuneration of more than a million and a half dollars, or [illegible] of all receipts. This sum includes not only their fixed wages but, in addition, a share of the profits which they received in bonuses or commissions. This conforms to the Company's long-established policy that its employees should participate directly, to some degree, in the Company's fortunes.

$289,862 PROFIT SHARING

All Zeller employees participate in some form of profit sharing. Many hold individual wage agreements, which provide for a generous fixed salary or drawing allowance, plus a commission based on a percentage of profits. All others, including former male employees now on active service, participate in a Standard Profit Sharing and Christmas Bonus Plan. The combined total of all bonuses and commissions amounted to $289,862, or over 19% of the total remuneration to the staff.

$48,687 EMPLOYEES' VACATIONS

All Zeller employees with six months' service or more are entitled to summer vacations with pay and all with two or more years' service are entitled also to winter vacations with pay. They received during their vacation periods last year total salaries and wages amounting to $48,687.



DISTRIBUTION OF TOTAL INCOME

Cost of Merchandise and Supplies	$ 7,511,379	69.13%
Remuneration to Staff	1,506,736	13.87
Occupational Costs (Rents, etc.)	698,713	6.44
Miscellaneous Expenses	159,441	1.47
Income and Excess Profits Taxes (Net)	575,000	5.29
Dividends to Shareholders	[illegible]	[illegible]
Leaving in the Business	203,746	1.87
Total Income	$10,865,015	100.00%

The Company has been in existence for thirteen years. During that time it has paid its own employees more than $10,500,000 in salaries, wages, bonuses and commissions; it has paid the Federal Government more than $2,500,000 in taxes; and has spent over $58,000,000 for merchandise and supplies. Over 90% of the goods sold by the Company are produced in Canada, and since the cost of merchandise is largely the cost of the labor required to produce it, it can be conservatively estimated that over the past thirteen years the Company's operations have resulted in more than $50,000,000 finding its way into the pay envelopes of Canadians. This includes those who work for the Company and those engaged in producing goods and bringing them to the Company's stores. For the same period the Shareholders, whose financing made it possible to establish the business, received $941,563.

The Company's policy is based on the firm belief that its success depends entirely on maintaining just relations with its customers, its employees, and its suppliers, and on its ability to be an asset to the communities in which it operates.

This is an example of modern Free Enterprise in action.

Winnipeg Club Hears Princess

WINNIPEG, April 30.—(CP)—HRH Princess Alice, wife of the governor-general, Earl of Athlone, told a meeting of the local council of women here today that "the most admirable resolutions are quite valueless unless translated into action."

"That is why I so earnestly appeal to the individual members of the local councils of women to range themselves staunchly and energetically behind their leaders, so that the wholly admirable proposals they have formulated may, as soon as possible, be realized."

"There is no time to wait, and my belief is that it is far better to act and make a few mistakes than to do nothing for fear of making mistakes."

Princess Alice said women have filled situations of every imaginable kind, both ordinary and extraordinary. "The list is too long for me to enumerate, sufficient to say that except for actual fighting, women have worked shoulder to shoulder with the men, and have gained for themselves an entirely new status in the life of the nation."

War Kitchen

By GAYNOR MADDOX

British rationing, because of its inclusiveness and strict enforcement, is highly effective. The British Ministry of Food, in cooperation with other government agencies, controls major food products from the time they leave the farm or the foreign country that produces them.

That's the report of Annette M. Snapper, director of consumer research for Pabst Co. who has just returned from her second tour of the British Isles, sponsored by the British Ministry of Information.

MEAT OWNED BY MINISTRY

"Food manufacturing, processing, transport and distribution are all controlled," Miss Snapper adds. "However, there are degrees of control. All meat is owned by the Ministry until it reaches the retailer, and all imported wheat and flour are Ministry property. But British wheat remains privately owned. Fresh fish is also privately owned, but distribution is regulated. Bread and potatoes are not rationed."

"Depending on the seasons, adults are allowed between two and four pints of milk a week," Miss Snapper says. "Children under 5 get seven pints, expectant mothers seven pints of [illegible] and seven pints of non-priority milk. Unlike the American abundant supply, eggs are scarce but all infants between 6 and 18 months old get three a week. Whenever a retailer receives oranges, for the first five days he sells them only for children and expectant mothers."

"If you take your meals in restaurants and hotels," Miss Snapper explains, "the limit is three courses. [illegible] 11 p.m. [illegible]"

MUST REGISTER

"The [illegible]," Miss Snapper reports. "For basic foods like sugar and meat, the consumer has to register with a particular retailer, the retailer with a particular wholesaler. But for canned goods, dried fruits and vegetables and other things you can shop around.

"Farmers are protected, too," this trained observer adds. "They not only know what and how much to grow, they know there will be a market for their produce."

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed prunes, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-cooked eggs, coffee cake, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Spaghetti with meat sauce, French or Italian bread, green salad, home-canned fruit, tea, milk.

Dean Trendell Dedicates Flag

Five hundred persons gathered at All Saints cathedral on Sunday evening for a special service at which a military flag donated to the Ladies's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion No. 24 BESL, was dedicated by the Very Rev. Dean A. M. Trendell.

Dean Trendell, in giving the dedicatory address, spoke on the current peace conference at San Francisco and told the congregation, "we all realize that we cannot leave it up to the delegates at San Francisco to make certain of world peace. That also, is your job and mine.

"The [illegible] claim leadership, but we must not put our faith in any prince or child of man. Christ is the only figure in human history who has made the claim, 'I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me.' It is of the utmost [illegible] give him a chance to substantiate His claim."

THE COMMANDMENTS

Dean Trendell spoke further of the 10 commandments, and how they are broken. "There are many within our own city who break each commandment with little thought.

"The best way in which we can serve our country [illegible] home and [illegible] selves, to go home and raise a Christian family; to stand for Christian verities within our own societies, for without this San Francisco can do little for us."

This was the second annual church service for the auxiliary. The flag will be used by the members at meetings and services. It is a silk flag, with a gold fringe and a black maple leaf at the pole top. Mrs. W. W. Gordon was flag-bearer, and Mrs. H. Gabel and Mrs. W. T. Rice were guards-of-honor. All three wore official uniforms consisting of a white dress, navy blue blazer with gold braid trim, and the wedge cap of the legion, together with white shoes and white gloves.

The flag was donated by the T. Eaton Company Western Ltd.

Government Plans Veterans' Buildings

VANCOUVER, April 30.—(CP)—Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of veterans affairs, said yesterday the [illegible] government is currently formulating plans for construction after the war of permanent administration buildings for veterans [illegible] centres in Canada.

Mr. Mackenzie, who arrived in Vancouver on a brief visit on departmental affairs, would not discuss plans for his election campaign.

Seeking re-election in Vancouver Centre, he expects to return to the city only shortly before the June 11 general election and conduct a quick campaign.

THEY STILL LIKE HITLER—Only 14 and 15 years old, the German soldiers in foreground, above, still believed Hitler would make Germany win the war, as they stood with hands raised in surrender. Looking them over is MP Pvt. Herbert Norman of Farmville, NC, who captured them when their ammunition ran out.

Pole - Soviet Pact Claimed Invalid

LONDON, April 30.—(CP)—The Polish government in London maintained officially Saturday that the recent treaty signed between Russia and the Polish provisional government in Warsaw is invalid because the Warsaw group is not representative of the Polish nation.

The London government said it remained sincerely desirous of settling relations with Russia "in the spirit of good neighborliness" but declared the pact "does not conduce to that end." It was learned that Jan Drohojowski, sympathizer of former premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, had been discharged as undersecretary for information in the London Polish administration. He was formerly councellor to the Polish embassy in Washington.

Fascist Shot

LONDON, April 30.—(CP)—Roberto Farinacci, Mussolini's delegate to the German command in Italy, has been tried and shot by partisans, the Milan radio announced Saturday.

Gen. Sansom Is Nominated

FREDERICTON, April 30.—(CP)—Lt.-Gen. E. W. Sansom was nominated Saturday as Progressive Conservative candidate for York-Sunbury in the June 11 federal election. Hon. R. B. Hanson, who represented the constituency in the last parliament, declined nomination owing to ill health. Mr. Hanson, former minister of trade and commerce and former party leader in the house, was first elected to parliament in 1921.

S.C. Party Given More Than Share Broadcast Time

MONTREAL, April 30.—(CP)—Dr. Augustin Frigon, general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, yesterday made public a letter he had sent to Hon. Solon E. Low, national leader of the Social Credit Association of Canada, in which he said that the Social Credit party was getting more free radio time than it was entitled to under terms of the white paper which governs political radio time.

Mr. Low had announced last week that he had made a protest to Dr. Frigon because the CBC had allotted seven per cent of the total political time to the Social Credit party as compared with 24 per cent to the CCF, 27 per cent to Progressive-Conservatives and 35 per cent to the Liberals.

Saying that a representative of the Social Credit group had agreed to the time division at a recent meeting at Ottawa, Mr. Frigon said that "it is most important that you should know that time allotment was not determined by the corporation but was the result of parties giving a portion of the time awarded them strictly in accordance with the white paper policy, to other parties".

The letter added that "the actual proportion of time which can be claimed by the Social Credit party under the rulings set forth in the white paper, would be 4.45 per cent of the allotted time. This would mean that your party would have received a maximum of three quarter-hours instead of the present four quarter-hour periods".

GENERAL MANAGER.—I. E. Hewett, formerly assistant general manager of the Thomas J. Lipton, Limited in Canada, who has been promoted to the post of general manager, according to an announcement by A. G. Johnson, vice-president of the firm. Mr. Hewett has been associated with the Lipton Company in Canada for more than 25 years.

Threaten Air Base

CHUNGKING, April 30.—(AP)—Heavy fighting continued yesterday on the Hunan front where the Chinese are attempting to check the Japanese drive on the American air base at Chihkiang, 250 miles southeast of Chungking. One enemy force was reported within 70 miles of the base.

Austria Forms Interim Govt. In Old Capital

MOSCOW, April 30.—(AP)—Austria, swallowed by Germany seven years ago as the first pawn of Nazi expansion, formed a new provisional government in Vienna Saturday under Dr. Karl Renner, a Social Democrat, as chancellor and foreign ministe[illegible]

Renner, 75, was chancellor in 1919-20, and was author of the constitution of the Austrian Republic. He strongly opposed communism in Austria after the last war, and his policies are criticized in a Soviet encyclopedia published in 1941.

The coalition government intends "to restore an independent Austria republic" and was formed according to the agreement of the 194[illegible] Moscow conference of tri-power foreign secretaries, a Tass dispatch from Vienna said yesterday.

THREE-PARTY PACT

Three parties, the Social Democrat, Christian Social, and Communist, make up the coalition. Renner was the last president of the free national council of the Austrian republic before its disbandment by the Germans in 1938.

By the Anschluss of March 13, 1938, the Nazi Reich completely absorbed Austria, making the republic the province of Ostmark. Russian troops now have driven deep into Austria from the east, liberating Vienna, and Americans have crossed the western frontier.

BAILEY BRIDGE OVER RHINE—Built by Canadian Army engineers, this Bailey Bridge across the Rhine river is shown shortly after it was opened to traffic. The small sign in the left foreground tells the distance that must be maintained between each vehicle so as not to overload any one portion of the bridge.

DELEGATES FROM WORLD OVER ARRIVE FOR SAN FRANCISCO SECURITY CONFERENCE

Floral greeting to the conference delegates is prepared in Golden Gate Park, one of California's beauty spots. The conference opened April 25 to discuss problems arising from the defeat of Germany and the conquest of Japan.

Latin-American delegates are shown on their arrival. Among the problems to be discussed is the guilt of civilians as well as soldiers and leaders for the atrocities which have been committed against millions of Allied nationals.

ALLIES BLAST OPEN GERMAN PRISONS TO FREE CAPTIVES WHO GO WILD WITH JOY

[illegible] are necessary when Allied soldiers open the gates of freedom to their comrades who have been held captive by the Germans. This scene of soldiers with tommy-guns shooting off a prison lock at Hammelburg is common.

Jubilant cheers ring through the air of Eselheide, Germany, as a throng of 9,000 Russian prisoners of war express their gratitude on liberation. Happy here, the survivors have their sorrow, too—for the 30,000 comrades who starved to death in captivity.

IT'S A NEW HOME IN ONTARIO STREAMS FOR HATCHERY TROUT

Young trout from the Sullivan hatchery near Chatsworth, Ont., are being poured into stream by Douglas Cutts while A. J. Rolston, overseer, and a boy watch. This is the time of year that hatcheries are launching into the full-scale operation of restocking Ontario's game-fish waters.

Speckled trout sometimes grow to a length of 10 inches in their first year, as Annabelle Caesar shows you here. Young ones like these are leaving hatcheries for homes in streams, and so find out how grim it is to make their own way. Predatory birds and fowl, including gulls from Great Lakes waters, find trout streams lush hunting.

Correspondent Hurt

LONDON, April 30—(AP)—William Frye, Associated Press war correspondent, was severely injured yesterday when a jeep in which he was returning from the British 2nd Army front in Germany was crushed between a truck and a tree. Don Campbell, Reuters correspondent who was riding in the same jeep, said Frye was taken unconscious to a casualty clearing station where a preliminary examination showed leg and back injuries possibly including a fractured pelvis. A further examination by x-ray was awaited.

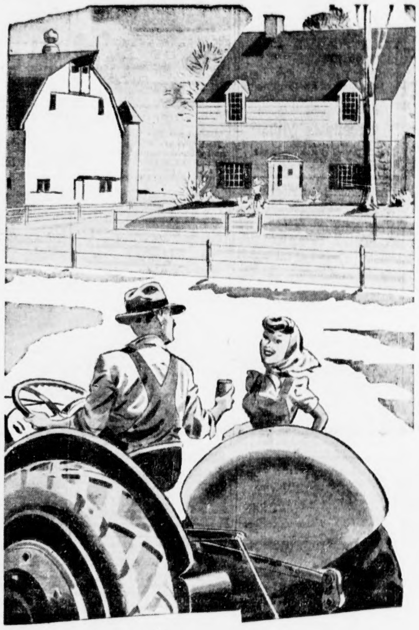
READY MONEY

IS HANDY TO HAVE . . .



MOST farmers, like most business men, start with limited capital. The first years . . . they seem so many years . . . are a struggle to make ends meet; to find the money to pay current bills. Then, when savings have accumulated to enable equipment and supplies to be bought at lowest prices; help hired when needed and produce held for most favorable selling prices, worries are fewer and profits greater.

Farmers, whose incomes have increased during the war years, have learned the many ways in which Victory Bonds help them in their financing.

Victory Bonds provide an objective to save for, and a safe place to keep savings. They earn money for you as long as you have them . . . double bank interest.

Victory Bonds enable a farmer to borrow money at a low interest rate . . . and the interest the bonds earn pays a large part of the interest on the loan. Banks recognize Victory Bonds as the best form of security that can be offered by any borrower. There is no delay in getting a loan; no "bargaining". You get the loan and still have your bonds.

And when you buy Victory Bonds you are doing an important job in helping your country's war effort. That knowledge will give you satisfaction and pride.

Invest in the Best . . . BUY

Educated in City: Wounded Overseas

Pte. Henry Eugene Walenchik, 13206 71 street, has been wounded in the left leg while serving with a Canadian infantry unit in Western Europe on April 11, last, according to word received by his parents here.

This is the second time Pte. Walenchik has been wounded, having suffered arm wounds some months ago.

Born in Poland the soldier enlisted in 1942. He attended school in North Edmonton.

The father, H. Walenchik, is a veteran of the First Great War, in which he served with the Russian army and was wounded three times.

Snowfall Hampers Red Cross Clinic

A spring "blizzard" that tied up roads and lanes with heavy drifts of snow cut into the usual success of the Red Cross mobile blood clinic from Edmonton when it stopped this week at Smoky Lake for a one-day clinic Wednesday.

Of 150 persons registered, only 75 were able to make the trip. Among them were half a dozen third-donation residents. Towns represented included Waskatenau, Warspite, Pakau, Bellis, Thorhild and Radway. Clinic was under direction of Charles Thomas, with Mrs. J. D. Sutherland convening the women's section. President of the Red Cross branch is Fred Hooley.

The clinic will not be making its scheduled visit to Mundare this week. Farm operations have the prospective donors "tied up." The following week, Entwistle and Evansburg will be visited.

Numerous Thefts Reported in City

Numerous reports of thefts are keeping city police busy, according to Chief Constable Reg. Jennings. One case of breaking and entering was also reported.

Thirteen boxes of shotgun shells were stolen from the bed-room of his home, J. Sorenson, 10615 76 avenue, reported. From the back of a parked truck, owned by Glen McPherson, a wheelbarrow disappeared Friday afternoon, while from the parked car owned by Otto Poelz, 11442 79 street, the spare wheel, tire and tube disappeared.

W. Sonnenberg, 10840 78 street, who is building a house at 95 avenue and 108A street, said that 75 feet of rubber hose had been taken from the basement.

Jars of fruit and pickles, together with two cases of beer, were stolen from a root house owned by Mrs. John Lakusta, 10719 79A street, sometime Thursday.

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Out Our Way By J. R. Williams

WING CMDR. F. C. COLBORNE, DFC.

Air Force Member Election Confirmed

Recount proceedings completed Monday morning before His Honor Judge Lucien Dubuc confirmed the election of Wing Commander F. C. Colborne as the RCAF representative in the Alberta Legislature, and resulted in his majority being increased by one vote.

A recount of the vote was asked for by WO.1 Roy J. Burton, Edmonton, who trailed by eight votes when the official count was made by returning officers.

Judge Dubuc, shortly before noon Monday, announced the result of the recount which gave Wing-Cmdr. Colborne 253 votes to 244 for Burton. In the recount one ballot counted for Burton was rejected by Judge Dubuc.

There were 10 spoilt ballots at the original election count, and not one of these affected the count for Burton or Colborne. One ballot was rejected because it was marked "give my vote to any Social Credit candidate." Other ballots were ruled as spoilt because of irregularities in marking.

Before the Magistrate

Charged with carrying on his business by operating a truck on a public highway in contravention of the Lord's Day Act, J. Kobasiuk of Edmonton was fined $5 or 10 days by Magistrate L. R. Jackson Saturday morning.

Patrick Holleran, charged before Magistrate L. R. Jackson Monday morning with theft by conversion, was sentenced to four months' imprisonment with hard labor. Formerly employed as truck driver, Holleran delivered a number of COD orders for his employers and failed to turn in the money so collected, the court was informed.

Ida Jean Gordon, who pleaded guilty to theft of a coat from an Edmonton departmental store, was ordered to pay a fine of $10 or serve 10 days. The coat was returned to the store.

Mrs. Mary E. Wood, who pleaded guilty to failure to have her child attend school, was ordered to pay costs in connection with the case.

Roy E. Summers, Edmonton, pleading guilty to unlawfully wearing a military uniform, was fined $50 or two months. "I have no excuse to offer," he said.

Reinhart Fenwich pleaded guilty to failure to slacken speed when approaching an intersection, and was penalized to the extent of $10 or 10 days.

V

Official Leaving For Ottawa Talks

John Lenglet, representative of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, will leave for Ottawa Monday night to present several appeals to the War Labor Board.

Burns & Co., Limited, recently appealed to the national board from a directive order of the regional board granting "equal pay for women" and "10 cents an hour increase to cellar workmen."

The case will be heard by the national board on Wednesday, May 2.

Mr. Lenglet also expects to attend a staff conference of the union and to confer with executive officers of the Canadian Congress of Labor on the establishment of a regional office here and the appointment of a representative for the Congress. He expects to be gone about a week.

V

Labor Progressive Party Calls Meet

The Labor Progressive party has decided to make a public appeal to all organizations in the city to attend a conference in the IODE hall, at 8:00 p.m. Thursday for the purpose of discussing the division of Edmonton into wards, and the equalization of polls to be more on a par with Federal and Provincial polling divisions of this city. Another suggestion is that candidates conduct their own campaign.

V

Steal Gas Coupons

Thieves who stole about 10 gas ration coupons from a book owned by Clarence J. Kwasnicy, 9746 88 avenue, replaced the book in the pocket of a coat owned by Leo Michelson, 10125 95 street, according to city police Monday.

Both Mr. Kwasnicy and Mr. Michelson were writing examinations in the Arts Building, University of Alberta, and had hung their overcoats up. It was the latter who discovered the ration book and some papers in the coat pocket as he was leaving the building. He handed them to police.

Will Run Eight Candidates in Sask. Election

The Social Credit party will run at least eight candidates in Saskatchewan in the forthcoming Dominion election on June 11. Hon. Solon E. Low, national leader of the Social Credit Association, stated Monday on his return from the Peace River district, in which constituency he will be the party's candidate.

Mr. Low also stated that he will leave shortly for a speaking tour of Saskatchewan in support of candidates nominated by the party in that province. After his Saskatchewan tour he plans to go to British Columbia for additional election campaign work.

CHANGE DATE

Last nominating convention of the party in Alberta will be held in Macleod on May 9. This is a change from the original date of May 4 set at the recent caucus of Social Crediters in Edmonton last week.

The convention to choose a candidate for East Edmonton will be held on Tuesday, May 8. The Athabasca candidate will be chosen at a convention at Boyle on Saturday, May 5.

Appointment of scrutineers for the overseas vote of servicemen was also announced.

NAME OFFICIALS

James H. Hodson, 224 Alberta Block, W. R. Low, 10510 86 avenue and E. M. Whicher, Calgary, have been appointed to supervise the vote for the party in Great Britain. The three have already left for overseas.

W. R. Low is a brother to the national leader of the Social Credit Party.

The following are named scrutineers for Northwest Europe, or wherever Canadian servicemen may be at the time of the election:

H. A. Webster, Calgary; A. C. Rowe, Vancouver; Marcel Eagoise, Quebec City, and Mrs. M. G. Beattie, Ottawa.

MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Low said he would probably make an announcement later this week concerning his resignation as minister without portfolio in the Alberta government and the vacating of his seat as member of the Alberta legislature for Warner.

"I am looking up the procedure governing this and will follow it out prior to the federal election," Mr. Low said.

Fire in Hotel Damages Room

Fire of unknown origin, breaking out in a room at the Royal George hotel, at 7.29 p.m. Saturday, caused extensive damage to a room occupied by L. W. Ruse, Dawson Creek, B.C., and some water damage to rooms on the floor below. Clothing owned by Mr. Ruse, which had been left hanging on the wall, was ruined by flames which damaged walls, floor and ceiling of the room.

Fire equipment in the hotel was put to use before the arrival of firemen who fought the blaze with hand-pump. Mr. Ruse was not in the room at the time of the outbreak.

V

Compliment Pupils On Festival Items

Annual festival of H. A. Gray, Norwood and Spruce Avenue districts was held Thursday and Friday afternoons when about 1,100 students gathered at H. A. Gray auditorium to enjoy the programs. The events were held under two student chairmen from Spruce Avenue school, Miss Dorothy Thompson and Miss Dorothy MacDonald. Marilyn Ritchie announced the numbers.

Programs consisted of chorus work, physical education numbers, rhythmical bands and dramatization. Owen Williams of Lethbridge acted as commentator for both programs. He complimented students and teachers on the standard of their presentations.

At the conclusion the Spruce Avenue staff served tea in the school library. Here Mr. Williams gave a brief talk to the assembled teachers in relation to their programs and festivals in general. A round-table discussion followed on festical topics.

Howe Appoints Labor Committee

OTTAWA, April 30—(CP)—Hon. C. D. Howe, as reconstruction minister, made public last night a letter sent to principal labor organizations advising of the appointment of a committee which would arrange regular meetings between Mr. Howe and representatives of labor organizations to discuss "urgent matters of mutual concern in reconstruction."

V

Britain to Drop Civilian Defences

LONDON, April 30—(CP)—Britain's civil defence services which have performed so valiantly throughout the war, will be disbanded soon, the ministry of home security announced last night. Plans call for almost immediate disbandment of the Royal Observer Corps, who are wardens of the coastal areas, and of the air defence units, although full-time civil defence workers will stay on the job for a short time longer.

V

Burning Shack

Police patrolmen, observing a shack burning at 68 street and 118 avenue, at 2:45 a.m. Monday, called city firemen to deal with it. The shack was said to have been built by youngsters in the district, and used as a playhouse.

Burning Berlin City of Dead

By DUNCAN HOOPER

MOSCOW, April 30.—(Reuters) — Sewers blocked with corpses, streets running through piles of masonry once palatial buildings, tree-lined avenues ablaze from end to end, pigeons flying through the air with flames singeing their feathers—this is the picture of Berlin given today by men who have watched the death agony of Hitler's capital.

Berlin is a city of the dead. Bodies of Germans litter the streets, they are entombed in the dark tunnels of the underground railway system, they are floating in the web of sewers.

They are the bodies of Nazi fanatics who obeyed Hitler's "stand-and-die" order, and thousands more will die before the guns of Moscow blaze their salute to the fall of Berlin.

GREAT FIRES BURN

Everywhere throughout Berlin fires are burning fiercely and are likely to burn for days. The Spree river and other waterways are choked with debris and rotting corpses, making it almost impossible for a suction pump to operate.

Night brings a complete blackout with only the moon and the glow of fires to light up the shadowy assault troops and the lines of tanks and guns moving up to the battle area.

Night and day the ears are deafened by a low, menacing roar—the sound of hundreds of fires burning in what remains of the German capital.

PEOPLE EMERGE

Occasionally out of the holocaust comes a small group of people, dodging from doorway to doorway, dragging heavy cases behind them. They are Germans, the Berliners who still live.

Nearly every day a manhole cover in a pavement is pushed aside and a dirty hand waving a white flag appears. Another German group has decided that surrender is better than death for the Fuehrer.

Red Chevron Club Members Recall First Poison Gas Attack at Ypres

Emphasizing the important part the veteran of the First Great War can play in assisting in the rehabilitation of the veteran of the present war, Maj. Gen. W. W. Foster, CMG, DSO, VD, special commissioner for defence projects in the Northwest, was main speaker at the 26th annual banquet of the 1914 Red Chevron Club in the IOOF hall, 103 street, Saturday evening. The event was held in celebration of the 30th anniversary of the Second Battle of Ypres.

Maj. Gen. Foster, who was making his second consecutive appearance as guest speaker at the annual dinner, declared that it was the old veterans' great privilege to see to it that many of the pitfalls experienced by them during the "between war" years are this time avoided. "It is more than a privilege," he said. "It is their solemn duty to help in every way possible in the great task of rehabilitation."

This was the underlying thought expressed by all the speakers—some veterans of this war, others veterans of both wars, all of whom had recently returned from the battlefield and other spheres of service. Capt. J. Harper Prowse, twice-wounded veteran of the Sicily-Italy campaign, and soldier member of the Alberta Legislature, received high commendation for his address, as did Lt.-Col. George Beaton, OBE, club member, who returned home from overseas two weeks ago.

DISTINGUISHED GATHERING

It was a distinguished gathering, with decorations and medals awarded for service overseas glittering on every chest. The comradeship and good feeling evidently greatly impressed one "new veteran," for, in his remarks, Captain Prowse said: "Before this war I frequently 'covered' Red Chevron affairs as reporter for The Edmonton Bulletin and I did not know what it was all about. Now I understand, because, for one thing, I can speak the same language. If, after 30 years, we new veterans can look back on continued comradeship and good fellowship as you gentlemen can, and still be holding functions such as this, then I will consider something very worth while has been accomplished."

A pleasing ceremony took place when Gordon Hauff was presented with a gold past president's badge, and, in turn, introduced the new president, Dalton Watson, who then took charge. Both were applauded.

As has been the custom of late years, the dinner, at which 125 were seated, and which included turkey with all the trimmings, was cooked and served by wives and daughters of club members, convened by Mrs. Hauff. Gratitude was expressed by the entire company.

Others introduced, and some of those who spoke briefly, included Col. Louis Scott, DCM, ED, Lt.-Col. H. B. Jamieson, ED, and Maj. Ray Pratley, all members, stationed in Calgary; Alex Ford, who travelled 400 miles from Milk River where he is postmaster, to attend; Howard Stutchbury, John Michaels, Lt. R. W. McGuire, representing the Navy; Chief Const. Reg. Jennings; Ald. C. E. Gariepy, K.C.; Lt. Col. E. Brown, MM, ED; Lt. Col. F. C. Hanington, assistant to Gen. Foster; Capt. Canon C. F. A. Clough, club padre; Dean A. M. Trendell, assistant padre; and Col. F. C. Jamieson, V.D.

PIPERS ATTEND

The gathering was "piped" into dinner by Cpl. D. Heron and L-Cpl. O. Stephen, both now serving with the Veterans' Guard of Canada. A. L. Brown had charge of catering, while R. E. Browne was songleader. Andrew Slater, club bard for many years, was accompanist. R. G. Mosher, vice-president, was chairman of the general committee. "Hardest-worked" man of the evening was Godfrey Henderson, secretary-treasurer.

Before the dinner, members gathered at the Cenotaph, where a short service was conducted by Captain Clough. The president, Dalton Watson, placed a wreath in memory of fallen comrades. The Lament was played by the pipers, and Last Post and Reveille sounded by Bugler Henry Yamauchi, of the Second (R) Battalion, Edmonton Fusiliers.

Concluding the dinner, the entire company joined hands and sang "Auld Lang Syne," after which a pleasant hour or two was spent around the piano in a singsong, with Mr. Slater, pianist, and Mr. Watson, accordionist, accompanying.

Army Begins Demobilization Of Veterans

OTTAWA, April 30—(CP)—The defence department has announced in a press release that it was now able to start demobilization of men with long service in the Canadian Army who have returned to Canada and said instructions have been issued for discharge of such men if they can meet certain requirements.

The statement: "The national defence department is now able to commence the release to civil life of certain categories of men with long service in the army overseas who have been returned to Canada.

Instructions have been given that, subject to the continuing requirements of the service for individuals with certain specific qualifications, men with five years service, four of which were overseas including six months service in a theatre of operations may be released.

EXEMPTION FOR WOUNDED

The full six months of service in a theatre of operations is not required in the case of those who have been wounded.

It is estimated that upwards of 5,000 men with the required service have now returned to Canada under the rotation duty and other arrangements, and more are being brought back as ocean transport becomes available.

The rotation leave system for the Canadian Army under which men with long service went home for 30 days was first announced last November. The first men to get such leave—mostly from the 1st Canadian Corps which at that time was in Italy—got home for Christmas and New Year.

Headquarters recently announced new orders which broke down leave categories into rotational duty, specific duty, long service leave and miscellaneous, the latter covering casualties, those medically unfit and unsuitable personnel.

WOUNDED MEN STAY

Under the regulations men in the rotational duty category with long continuous service outside the western hemisphere, twice-wounded men with three years service overseas or thrice-wounded men, were to be retained in Canada.

Men on long service leave whose special qualifications were needed overseas were to be returned to their units after 30 clear days at home. Specific duty men also would be returned after completing Canadian tours of duty.

Tribute Is Paid to Hudson's Bay Co.

LONDON, April 30—(CP)—Forthcoming celebration of the 275th anniversary of the Hudson's Bay Company Wednesday prompted an editorial in The Times of London yesterday in which tribute was paid to this "ancient company of merchant adventurers", not only as a sympol of British enterprise and endurance but also as a considerable factor in post-war empire commerce.

In a lengthy review of the company's history and achievements, the editorial said:

"Its great stores offer a potential opening for British goods and its purchases as well as its sales will represent a significant factor in the adjustment of payments between sterling and dollar areas.

"The future of commercial relations between Britain and Canada will be much affected by the extent to which each can import the other's products, and the Hudson's Bay Company seems marked out . . . to play a part in this process worthy of its resources and prestige".

The anniversary will be marked in London, birthplace of the company, by a luncheon with cabinet ministers, Canadian government representatives and officers of the three Canadian armed services as principal guests.

New Contact With Himmler Is Reported

STOCKHOLM, April 30—(AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said today that Count Folke Bernadotte arrived in Denmark Sunday night from Germany after "making a new contact with Heinrich Himmler".

Bernadotte, vice chairman of Swedish Red Cross, was described by the newspaper as the emissary who carried the Gestapo chief's offer to surrender to the United States and Britain from Germany to Stockholm last week. He returned to Germany Saturday, ostensibly on Red Cross work.

The newspaper Aftonbladet said the Count narrowly escaped death when Allied planes bombed the Danish airfield from which he was about to take off with the original Himmler message.

The Swedish foreign office announced that Bernadotte transmitted an "oral message" from Himmler to the Swedish government.

The foreign office statement added nothing more, but it was presumed that Himmler's message was the one which offer capitulation to the western Allies only.

American and British legation officials were not available for comment immediately.

Peace Rumors Did Not Delay Security Talks

By C. R. BLACKBURN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30—(CP)—Rumors and counter-rumors culminating late Saturday in a premature report that the Germans had unconditionally surrendered excited but did not long interrupt the proceedings of the United Nations' security conference.

Yesterday leading delegates remained close to their working quarters and all seemed to feel that the official news of an end of the fighting in Europe might reach them at any moment.

Plenary sessions Saturday morning and afternoon disposed of many of the speeches delegation leaders are making in alphabetical order and these will be completed Monday.

KING INDISPOSED

Prime Minister Mackenzie King did not attend Saturday's sessions because of a slight cold which sent him to bed early Friday evening after he had delivered his conference address to an apparently appreciative audience.

Yesterday he was back to normal and lunched with Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary. He was with Mr. Eden when the rumors of an end of the fighting in Europe were circulating in the conference rooms.

When the premature surrender report was displayed on newsstands late Saturday afternoon Mr. King was working on an address he will broadcast to Canada when the official news is received.

Today, one of the loveliest of an exceptionally long period of near-perfect weather, Mr. King was working with his fellow delegates and advisers in hotel quarters.

PLANS FOR AMENDMENTS

He had not planned to offer any Canadian amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks world security plan unless the progress and course of debate indicated that such action would be desirable from Canada's point of view. But a deadline for amendments has been set to expire next Friday and now it will be necessary to submit them in writing before that date or not at all.

It is not expected that these amendments will be made public until they are considered in open session and it is not definite that any will be offered by Canada.

Canada's interest in functional representation on the proposed world security council may be represented in the amendments Australia will propose.

Australia has bluntly declared that the all-powerful security council should be composed of security powers—powers which have the resources to prevent aggression and have demonstrated their willingness to use them.

INTENSIFY CLAIMS

Small countries today intensified their campaign for a louder voice in a world organization when five middle eastern states agreed to demand expansion of the security council.

Delegates Monday have to roll up their sleeves and start picking commissions and committees, authorizing conference seats for two Soviet republics, and answering claims of the smaller powers.

Delegates were convinced they ought to move rapidly. For Senator Tom Connally of Texas, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and vice-chairman of the American delegation, stuck by a statement that announcement of German capitulation could be expected "momentarily."

The middle-eastern and Arab countries—Saudi Arabia, Egypt, Iran, Syria and Lebanon—have held at least one joint meeting here. They have agreed, a spokesman disclosed, to stand united for 14 members on the security council instead of the 11 originally planned. The council will be the instrumentality which can order use of armed force to halt aggression.

See "Difficulties" For Security Group

LONDON, April 30.—(CP)—The Soviet newspaper Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, declared today that difficulties undeniably stood in the path of creating a world security league but asserted firmly that "they must be surmounted."

"It would be wrong," the Moscow radio quoted Pravda as saying, "to overlook the considerable difficulties on the road to establishment of international security, but one should not flinch in the face of difficulties."

The paper added that "if some people are frightened by these difficulties, this merely proves their lack of understanding of the significance of collaboration among the great powers, which has developed and strengthened in the course of the present war."
